Obituary

Shonna Lloyd, age 60, of Westwego, Louisiana was called home to be with the Lord on Tuesday, November 11, 2025. She was born on March 16, 1965, to the late Joseph Guillory Sr. and Gloradine Guillory.

Shonna graduated from L.W. Higgins High School and attended Westbank Business College, where she began the journey for a life filled with purpose, love, and service to others.

She was a woman whose heart overflowed with generosity, warmth, and creativity. She cooked unforgettable meals, tended a vibrant garden, and created beautiful crafts, always pouring love into everything she touched. Her presence made ordinary moments feel cared for and full of life. A philanthropist at heart, Shonna dedicated herself to helping others and lifting spirits wherever she went. She was deeply devoted to her faith, and her love for the Lord guided every part of her life.

To know her was to be loved by her. Her legacy is not measured in possessions or accomplishments, but in the countless lives she touched, the laughter she sparked, and the deep, abiding love she gave freely. Her absence will echo, but so will the light she left behind. She leaves her family wrapped in the grace she lived by, and those who loved her carry forward the warmth she poured into this world.

Shonna's life reminds us that beauty is not measured by what we have, but by how fully we give ourselves to others. She gave her heart freely, loved fiercely, and lived fully and for all who knew her, the world is brighter because she was here.

Her story does not end here. It lives in every memory, every lesson, every bit of love she left behind. Shonna's life was a testament to the power of love, joy, and generosity. Her laughter, her kindness unending, and her beauty—both inside and out—touched everyone she met. She had a way of making ordinary moments extraordinary and leaving an indelible mark on every heart she encountered.

Obituary Continued

Shonna's life was defined by her love for family. She is survived by her devoted husband, retired Sgt. Randy Lloyd, and her loving children, Lacie Renee Lloyd and Jeremi Lloyd.

She also leaves behind her beloved mother, Gloradine Guillory, and the siblings she cherished and shared her life with: Joseph Guillory Jr., Cheryl Smith (Tyrone), Myrna Guillory, Terran Guillory, Barry Guillory (Barbara), Carol Wiltz (Kenny), Kenneth Guillory (Alisa), Marvin Guillory, Angela Seltzer (Irvin), Alesha Tardieff (Joseph), Anthony Guillory, Craig Guillory, and Tawana Williams. She also leaves to cherish her memory her mother-in-law, Brenda Badger; sister-in-law, Phyllis Lloyd Washington; brother-in-law, Byron Badger (Dianne); and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends who were blessed by her presence.

Shonna was preceded in death by her late father, Joseph Guillory Sr., and her brother, Lonnie Lee Guillory.

Eternal light

She lived in faith, she lived in love,
A gentle heart, a steady soul.
Her presence felt like morning sun,
Soft and certain, making all things whole.

She found joy in simple, honest things:
A shared meal, a quiet walk, a passing breeze.
Her hands were patient, her words were kind,
Her wisdom came wrapped in grace.

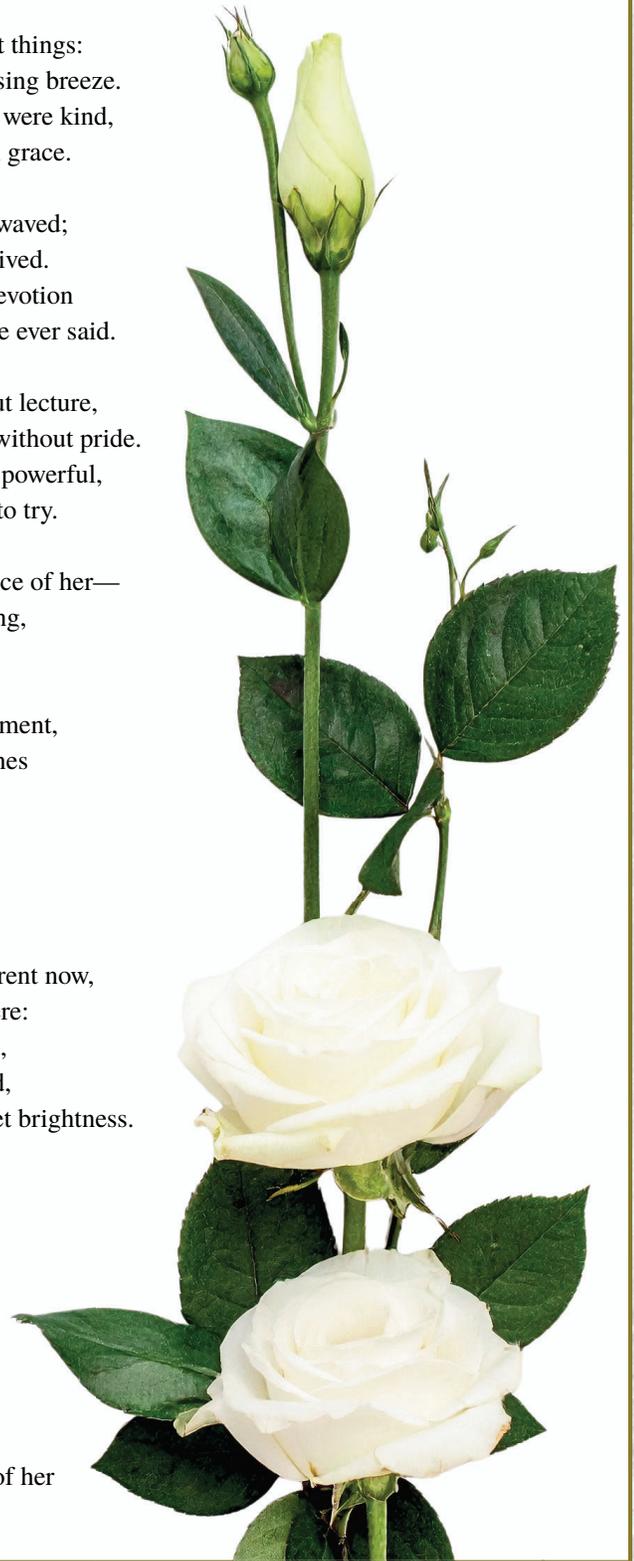

Her faith wasn't a banner she waved;
It was woven into how she lived.
A humble, generous, steady devotion
Felt more deeply than anything she ever said.

She taught us compassion without lecture,
Strength without hardness, courage without pride.
She showed us that gentleness is powerful,
And real love does not have to try.

Every life she touched carries a piece of her—
A little more understanding,
A little more patience,
A little more heart.
Her legacy is not a single moment,
But the countless small ones
Where she showed up,
Reached out,
Stood strong,
And chose love.

And though the world feels different now,
It still holds her everywhere:
In the habits she shaped,
In the values she planted,
In the memories that glow with quiet brightness.

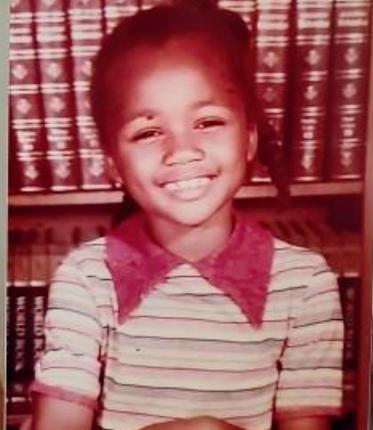

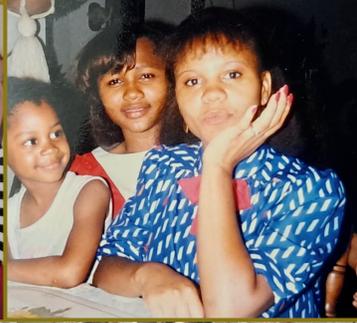

She was a blessing.
She is a blessing.
Her light didn't fade;
It multiplied.
And because she lived,
We rise a little kinder,
Walk a little softer,
Love a little deeper,
And carry forward the best of her
In everything we do.
