

23rd Psalm

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures,
He leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul.

He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil; for thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me
in the presence of mine enemies;
Thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life;

And I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever.

Obituary

It is with profound love and sorrow that we share the passing of Jessica Lynn Chapman. Born June 14, 1996 in Cincinnati, Ohio to Gregory Allen Chapman, Jr. and Wanda Lee Romans-Earls. She was also parented by Joseph Kenneth Earls, Nancy Jean Earls and Emmert A. Earls. Jessica was a loving and dedicated mother to her children, Faith Annalee Poor, Justice Gracelynn Chapman, and Sidney Andrew Bravard IV. They were the center of her life and her greatest joy. She shared a deep and meaningful bond with her fiancé, Sidney Andrew Bravard III, who preceded her in death. She was also preceded in death by her grandpa, Wilbur H. Romans.

Jessica's life was unexpectedly cut short, yet the impact she made will continue to echo through the lives she touched. She carried magnetic energy - one that drew people in effortlessly. When Jessica entered a room, her presence was unmistakable. She brought with her a spark that was both powerful and comforting. To know Jessica was to experience someone truly unforgettable. Her spirit, her laughter and the way she made others feel will be carried in the hearts of those who loved her for years to come. She was a resilient young woman marked by strength, grit and a quiet determination that shaped her journey. Jessica valued her friends and family deeply. Her love was not subtle - it was bold. She was unwavering and obvious in everything she did.

If you were fortunate to be loved by her you knew it without question. She would go to great lengths to support and uplift those around her, always putting others before herself. She was a bright light - full of compassion and empathy. Jessica had a natural ability to reach people, especially those who felt lost, offering them hope when they needed it most. Her laugh was contagious. Her humor disarming and even in difficult moments, she had a way of bringing lightness into the room - sometimes exactly when it was least expected, but most needed. Jessica's presence was a gift. Her memory will remain a source of strength, warmth and inspiration to all who had the honor of knowing her.

She is survived by her parents; her children; her siblings, Ciarra Caine (Jeremy), Gregory Chapman III, Karson Berger, Emmert Earls II, Kristina Neihaus (Chris), Amber Earls (Ricky), Nichole Earls (Jared), Stephanie Hatton, Jennifer Earls (Michael) and Gary Hall (Angela); grandmas Wilavean Simpson and Margaret Keller.
