Messages of the Heart

Like a ship lost in a storm at times we feel alone,
but if we reach beyond our pain to another ship lost in the rain.
We'll rid our crying hearts of emptiness and hope will start to bring to us tranquility from the stretched out hand that calmed the restless sea.
The messages to the heart, from the soul the words depart.
Then speak with kindness do the deeds that
will put to rest the trifle things of life.
To a beggar in the street or a troubled soul we meet,
we need to reach out our hand to give to love to understand their cries.
Understanding comes in ways of patience, love, and praise.
The reaching forth through humility to forgive,
forget, and try to be, like Christ.
The messages to the heart, from the soul the words depart.
Then speak with kindness do the deeds that
will put to rest the trifle things of life.

For he said come unto me.
