Obituary

One Tuesday in Cincinnati, Ohio Jasper Paul Jackson was born on September 25, 1956 to Irene Ambrose and Wiley Jackson. Jasper Jackson a strong healthy baby boy added joy to the lives of his family. Growing up Jasper was afforded the opportunity to be a Bull Dog as well as part of the Big Red Family because he attended both Hughes High school and Woodward High School in Cincinnati, Ohio.

After school he moved on to work at Milacron as a Finisher on Print Department.

Jasper was doing well and met the love of his life, Jasper got married and from that union he was blessed to have two beautiful children, Andrea Jackson, and Jasper Jackson Jr.

Jasper was incredibly talented with many trades he was an amazing cook, so shortly after leaving Milacron he began pursuing a career as a chef at several local high-end restaurants like Masonette and R Tapley's where he was recognized for his superb culinary skills.

Jasper was a very funny and laid-back kind of guy. If you know him, you totally understand. But in 2015 Jasper health took an unexpected turn when he suffered a stroke. Although he remained here with us a lot of things change with his mobility and speech. But you still can see him muster up that smile and it never affected his communication with his family and friend. As a result, a sudden decline in his health spiked and Jasper was called home.

Jasper will truly be missed, and memories will remain forever.

Preceded in death (mother) Irene Ambrose and Wiley Jackson (father). Jasper leaves to cherish: (brothers) Wiley Jackson Jr. David Johns, (sisters) Patricia Ann Johns, Tiffany Jackson, Demeatres White (two children) Jasper Jackson Jr (son) and Andrea Jackson (daughter), (grandchildren) Kalyn, Italee and host of Aunts, Uncles, Nieces and Nephews, Cousins and Friends.
