Not Forgotten

A young goat, fearless, full of flame,
Too soon the heavens called his name.
His spirit strong, his heart so pure,
His memory will always endure.
Gone too soon, but never gone
His light in us keeps shining on.

Life Reflection

Gaberial Quamaine Young Jr., born on February 12th, 2010, in Grand Rapids, Michigan, was a radiant soul whose light shone brighter than words can express. From the moment he entered this world, he captivated our hearts with his boundless joy, infectious laughter, and unyielding love. Attending Wyoming Public Schools, he was not just an honor roll student; he was a beacon of hope and promise, a testament to the incredible spirit that defined him.

Baptized at Lamb of God Church in 2017, Quamaine's faith was a reflection of his pure, compassionate heart. Some spirits are too luminous for this earthly realm; Quamaine was undeniably one of those extraordinary souls. His presence was a gift dazzling and profound.

He lived every day with an unstoppable passion whether clutching a football with fierce determination, making magic on the basketball court, or dancing and laughing to music that carried his vibrant energy everywhere he went. Quamaine was life in motion: full of energy, full of light, full of love. His heart reached out to everyone, warm and genuine; helping others, spreading smiles, transforming ordinary moments into cherished memories that now shimmer with eternity.

His laughter was a contagious melody that lifted spirits, his kindness was effortless a gentle tide that touched all around him. His presence left an indelible mark on our souls. To his sisters, brothers, cousins, friends he was a protector, a playmate, a shining light in their lives.

He was preceded in death by his cherished great-grandparents Charlie Williams, Dorothy Williams, Edward Atkins, Denese Mitchell, and his great-great-grandmother Veola Evans.

Heart Of A Lion
POEM FROM MOTHER
Guamaine the moment I first held you, I knew you had the heart of a lion.
ere was something in your spirit. Strong, brave, and full of light! That set you apart.
u faced this world with courage, even when life tested you in ways. You never stopped loving, never pped fighting, never stopped shining. Your laughter could fill a room, your smile could calm a storm, your strength gave the rest of us hope.
in your hardest moments, you showed grace. You showed heart. You showed what it truly means e with purpose and pride.
naine, you taught me more than I could ever teach you about bravery, kindness, and the power of g on to love even when it hurts. You were, and always will be, my greatest blessing. Though you longer here in body, I feel you in every heartbeat, every quiet moment, every ray of sunlight that through the clouds. Your roar still echoes in my soul strong, fierce, and full of love. You will
