Obituary

Georgie Sue Shell was born February 27, 1957, in Neshoba County, Mississippi from the union of Ross and Zadine Warner. Georgie grew up in the Sispy/ Dixon community. As a child, she attended church regularly at Pleasant Valley Missionary Baptist Church, did farm work and loved paper dolls. She graduated from Neshoba Central High School, Class of 1975 and later went to McNeely Business School. After graduation, Georgie married the late Chief Kenneth Coleman. To that union two children were gained, Ebony Triplett and Ashley Coleman.

In Georgie's early adult life Georgie was a member of the Church of Christ. She believed in being a keeper of the family. Georgie was an aunt and mother-figure to many of her nieces and nephews. Throughout the years she worked at Wal-Mart, Nemanco, U.S. Motors, and Silver Star Casino. Later in life, Georgie joined Calvary Apostlic Church of Louisville, Mississippi. She remarried in 2001 to Billy Shell. Although no children were born in this union, she was a very loving and active grandparent. When dialysis was required, she retired from Walmart in 2017.

Georgie was a God-fearing woman. She believed in peace and doing things in decency and order. Georgie is remembered as sweet and kind. She always had a word of advice or warning. Georgie loved church and being involved. She loved family and her doors were always open to those that needed help.

On March 16, 2026, Georgie departed this life and went home to the heavenly father. She leaves to cherish her memories, loving daughter Ashley Coleman and Ebony (Raymond) Murrell of Philadelphia, Mississippi, six grandchildren: Kamry Coleman, Caleb Coleman, Kendrick Day, Azaria Triplett, Demarcus Triplett, Makayla Triplett; an aunt, Bonnie Calloway. There are a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, close friends, and church family to cherish her memories.

Georgie was preceded in death by her parents, Ross Warner and Zadine Viverette Lewis; grandparents, AB Viverette and Nettie Boler Viverette; siblings, Evelyn Shelby, Dottie Price, Nathaniel Bragg, Edward Bragg, Helen Triplett, Rita Warner, Flossie Stephenson, and Henry Lewis Jr.; special nephew Marcus Willie Triplett.

“A Mother’s Love”

*You were my shelter, strong and true,
A guiding light in all I do.
With gentle hands and a caring heart,
You gave me strength right from the start.*

*Your voice still echoes in my days,
In quiet moments, in loving ways.
The lessons you taught, the love you gave,
Are treasures no time can take away.*

*Though we must walk this road apart,
You live forever within my heart.
Until we meet again above,
I will carry you with endless love.*

*- Your Loving Daughter,
Ashley*

“A Life Well Loved”

*She walked in kindness, soft and true,
With open doors for me and you.
A heart so giving, full of grace,
You could see God in her embrace.*

*She held her family near and dear,
Through every joy, through every tear.
A voice of wisdom, calm and wise,
With love that shined through gentle eyes.*

*Though she has gone to heaven's rest,
We know that God has chosen best.
Her spirit lives, her love remains,
In cherished hearts and sacred names.*

*Forever loved, forever near,
In every memory, she is here.*

- Your Family, Friends & Loved Ones

“Grandma's Love”

*Grandma, your love was warm and bright,
A shining star, our guiding light.
With gentle hugs and words so sweet,
You made our lives feel so complete.*

*You cheered us on, you held us tight,
You kissed our tears and made things right.
Your laughter filled our hearts with joy,
A love no time can ever destroy.*

*Though we can't see you, we know you're near,
In every smile, in every tear.
We'll carry your love as we grow each day,
Grandma, you never went away.*

-Your Grandchildren
