

With heavy hearts, we announce the passing of Rodney Lynn Jackson, age 65, of North Logan. Rod was surrounded by family when he passed away on January 30, 2026, at McKay-Dee Hospital following medical complications.

Born on April 19, 1960, Rod was raised on a farm in Sidney, Montana, as the youngest of three children. He met his wife, Mary, in eighth grade. They were married on June 26, 1981, and went on to share 45 years of marriage together.

Rod and Mary began raising their first two children in Billings. After working for ten years at Montana Steel, Rod accepted a position with Nucor Steel in 1989, to which he dedicated 31 years of his career. This opportunity brought their family to Cache Valley, where they welcomed their two younger children and built a life centered on family.

Rod loved the outdoors—gardening, soaking up the sun, swimming with his kids, camping, skiing, and giving his dogs daily runs. He enjoyed traveling with family, attending concerts, lunch outings with friends, and watching his grandkids play sports. He also had a love for jeeps, woodworking, and creating handmade jewelry.

He was dedicated to his children and to helping anyone who needed him. Rod freely gave his time, guidance, and support. He will be remembered for his gentle nature, kindness, and steady presence.

For Rod

In this quiet space between breaths,
Where fear and hope sit side by side,
May your heart remember its strength;
The steady rhythm that has carried you
Through years of love, work, and care.

You bring joy to those around you,
A light felt in laughter, kindness, and presence
And that joy circles back to you now,
Surrounding you with love and hope as you heal.

May healing move through you gently,
Moment by moment, breath by breath,
Guided by skilled hands and wrapped in prayers, spoken and unspoken.
Let rest restore what strain has taken,
And peace settle where worry tried to live.

You are not alone in this fight.
Surrounded by thought, by prayer, by love,
Strength returns, and hope remains.
