THE LIFE STORY OF Warren PIZZARD SMITH

Warren Pizzard Smith entered the world on October 20, 1958, in Bolin, Mississippi, welcomed by his mother, Rosia Mae Smith. His early years in Bolin were filled with childhood adventures until, at nine, he journeyed to St. Louis with his mother and stepfather, Rose and Joseph Barned. Eventually, Warren found his true home in Las Vegas, where he built a life rich with memories. He attended Jo Mackey Elementary and graduated from Chaparral High School, proudly representing his school as a dedicated member of the wrestling team.

Chasing the American dream, Warren discovered a love for both automobiles and the culinary arts. For two decades, he brought flavor and heart to the Showboat as a cook, then spent another 15 years at the Cannary, where his inventive spirit in the kitchen became legendary. Warren thrived as a chef, earning admiration for his unwavering dedication—he never missed a single day of work, not even when he was under the weather.

Warren shared his journey with three wives over the years: Angela Tatum, Phyliss Green, and Jessica Davis Smith. Surrounded by family, he embraced every moment—relishing vacations, lively gatherings, Western movies, hearty laughter, Miller High Life, delicious meals, and unforgettable games of spades.

Warren Pizzard Smith, age 67, passed away peacefully at home on Saturday morning, May 9, 2026.

He was preceded in death by his mother, Rosia Mae Barnes; brother, Eric Smith; sister, Belinda Smith; three aunts, Tera Douglas, Ollie Richards, and Mary Fortune; grandmother, Cora Bell Smith; and uncle, Charles Smith.

He is survived by two children, Warren Pizzard Smith and Halo Raine Davis Smith; four stepchildren, Augusta, Malik, Nu-Nu, and Yani, all residing in Las Vegas; the Travis and Wilson families; numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren; two sisters, Gwendolyn and Theresa Smith; a brother, Tony Patterson; cousins Roderick Smith and Christopher Smith; as well as many nieces, nephews, and extended family members living in other states.
