My Dearest Grandma,

God saw you getting tired and a cure was not to be, so he put his arms around you and whispered, "come to me." Such a beautiful heart stop beating, and working hands are now at rest. God broke our hearts to prove he only takes the best. They say there is a reason, they say the time will heal, Neither time or reason, will change the way I feel, Gone are the days we used to share, But in our heart, you'll always be there, The gates of our memories will never close, I miss you more than anyone knows...

Love and miss you everyday til we meet again...

*Always and forever,
Love Malaikia-Bash-Donte "JoJo", Milian "Murda", Sincere "Bird".*

HER Story

Clara Mae Washington Key, affectionately known as "Aunt Sista", was born in Edgefield-Johnson, South Carolina on June 26th, 1943. She attended high school in South Carolina before heading North to Philadelphia in 1967 with the love of her life, Thomas Key who predeceased her in February, 2010.

Clara was a God-fearing, committed, loving and matriarchal presence in the lives of her husband, siblings, children, grand-children, great grand-children, nephews and nieces notably including Gloria Jean, Brenda "Baby Doll" Key and Renee "Cookie" Key who oversaw Clara's care and wellness with love and astounding devotion in her latter days.

Clara was a dependable woman, known as a hub of epic family reunions, picnics and cook-outs.

Clara, being one of few words, imparted wisdom and spoke truth to power, letting everyone know that when she did say something they should listen carefully and take heed.

She enjoyed playing Bingo, hosting exciting card games and was an avid traveler, especially with her children, who were always her first priority.

Clara will be unequivocally missed. Her legacy of kindness, fierce protective loyalty, a family first attitude and a warm heart will be passed down and held dearly for many generations to come.

Clara was predeceased by her siblings Annie Mae Washington Key, Pauline, Rudolph Washington, Sr., Robert Lee Washington, Willie Pete Washington, Horace Washington and her nephew Rudolph Washington, Jr.

Clara leaves to mourn her memory her children Edward (Cathy), David "Chew" / "Dawud" (Anne), Ernest "Kareem" (Muslimah), Andre "Shakur" (Janine), Lois and Ricky "Abdul", a host of grand-children including Lawrence "Jack" Garvin and Malaika White who shared a nurturing and special relationship with Clara, many, many great grand-children, God-daughters, Kim Mosley, Yvette (Derick) Brown and Triva (James) Tate, nieces, nephews, great-nieces, great-nephews, additional extended family, a close knit community of neighbors, some spanning over fifty (50) years and long held friends.

She was truly one of a kind.

Lovingly submitted,

The Family
