

*“Do not hold on to me with tears,
for I am not gone—I am only changed.”*

Our Dad lived a simple life. He loved fishing, camping, quadding, gardening, cooking, movies and his pets. The only thing he loved more than those was sharing them with his kids. It feels like it wasn't long ago he was still bringing us snack plates and trying his best to read us a book before bedtime. We cherish the memories of wrestling with him in the basement and all the mini stick games we never kept score of. A time where his shoulders were the highest place on earth. Who he was will live on through us, his kids for the rest of our lives. We are his legacy. His mark on us, and everyone he met will never be forgotten.

~ Carter, Mason, and Lincoln

Remembering Kelly

*“Do not hold on to me with tears,
for I am not gone—I am only changed.”*

Our Dad lived a simple life. He loved fishing, camping, quadding, gardening, cooking, movies and his pets. The only thing he loved more than those was sharing them with his kids. It feels like it wasn't long ago he was still bringing us snack plates and trying his best to read us a book before bedtime. We cherish the memories of wrestling with him in the basement and all the mini stick games we never kept score of. A time where his shoulders were the highest place on earth. Who he was will live on through us, his kids for the rest of our lives. We are his legacy. His mark on us, and everyone he met will never be forgotten.

~ Carter, Mason, and Lincoln

Remembering Kelly

