Story of Life

Leon R Kaymore III was born January 30, 1995 and transitioned on January 18, 2025. He was born in Savannah, GA where he received his formal education in Chatham County. He graduated in 2013 from Savannah Early College. He continued his education at Clark Atlanta University. During his collegiate years, he interned at Michigan State University as part of the civil engineering program and interned at B.E.T. which led to his passion to pursue a music career.

Leon released his first record "I Won't Quit" in August of 2014. The success of this record led to him working with various artist such as Missy Elliott, Juvenile, and OG Boobie Black throughout his career. Leon was discipled by Pastor John P Kee. He mentored young upcoming artists and was dedicated to serving his community.

Leon was a servant leader and always took care of those around him. He is known for having a radiant and positive energy that shifted every room that he walked into. He lives up to his legendary name by leaving everyone better than he found them. His declaration "WE UP ALL YEAR" will always remind us to stay focus, chase success and reach the top, no matter the challenges.

Leon is preceded in death by his grandmother, Alice Jones. He leaves to cherish his life and memories to his "gems and stars".
