Psalm 139

O Lord, you have examined my heart and know everything about me. You know when I sit down or stand up. You know my thoughts even when I’m far away. You see me when I travel and when I rest at home. You know everything I do.
You know what I am going to say even before I say it, Lord.
You go before me and follow me.

You place your hand of blessing on my head. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me, too great for me to understand! I can never escape from your Spirit! I can never get away from your presence!

If I go up to heaven, you are there; if I go down to the grave, you are there. If I ride the wings of the morning, if I dwell by the farthest oceans, even there your hand will guide me, and your strength will support me.

I could ask the darkness to hide me and the light around me to become night - but even in darkness I cannot hide from you. To you the night shines as bright as day. Darkness and light are the same to you.

You made all the delicate, inner parts of my body and knit me together in my mother’s womb. Thank you for making me so wonderfully complex! Your workmanship is marvelous - how well I know it.

You watched me as I was being formed in utter seclusion, as I was woven together in the dark of the womb. You saw me before I was born. Every day of my life was recorded in your book. Every moment was laid out before a single day had passed.

How precious are your thoughts about me, O God. They cannot be numbered! I can’t even count them; they outnumber the grains of sand! And when I wake up, you are still with me!

O God, if only you would destroy the wicked! Get out of my life, you murderers! They blaspheme you; your enemies misuse your name.

O Lord, shouldn’t I hate those who hate you? Shouldn’t I despise those who oppose you? Yes, I hate them with total hatred, for your enemies are my enemies.

Search me, O God, and know my heart; test me and know my anxious thoughts. Point out anything in me that offends you, and lead me along the path of everlasting life.

Obituary

Freddie Lee McCloud, 91, of Rahway, NJ passed away on December 17, 2020 in Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital, Rahway, NJ. He was born on November 9, 1929 in Montgomery County (Buffalo), GA to the late George and Fannie Rawls-McCloud. He was the youngest of their eleven children.

Freddie grew up in Montgomery County and was educated in the local public school system. Later, in the early fifties, he joined the Army and served during the Korean War. Freddie Lee’s military duty was kitchen and cooking details (he was an excellent cook). Occasionally, he would reminisce about the time he served on active duty in Greenland. The highlight of his recollection was talking about how cold it was there. It was ironic that when Freddie was honorably discharged from military service he would relocate from the warmth of Georgia to the cold winters of New Jersey.

After moving to Elizabeth, NJ in the mid-fifties he acclimated and comfortably made it home. He had close family, hometown friends, and new relationships that helped the process of adopting New Jersey as his new home state.

As fate would have it, one of these new relationships would eventually become Mrs. Freddie Lee McCloud. Rosa Mae (Rose) and Freddie Lee (Freddie) fell in love and was married. They lived in Elizabeth for some years and later relocated to Rahway, NJ. He was a member and attended Liberty Baptist Church, Elizabeth NJ. Freddie was a caring and good husband and a loving and dedicated father to their son, Tyrone.

He enjoyed being with and hanging out together with selected family members and friends at parties and entertainment spots. Freddie Lee was an avid sport’s fan who loved to attend games or watch them on TV. His teams were the San Francisco Giants, Philadelphia 76ers, and Dallas Cowboys. He was not a ‘happy camper’ without TV. Watching TV became his favorite past time. He loved the old westerns/cowboy shows and movies.

Early in life Freddie had various kinds of employment. He later became a faithful employee of Allen & Company; a company that provided interior parts for the auto industry. He retired after many years of dedicated service because of a medical condition.

Freddie Lee leaves to cherish his memory his sons, Tyrone McCloud of Rahway, NJ, and Alfonso Smiley of Atlanta, GA; his only living sibling, Sonnie McCloud (Rosetta, deceased) of Miami, FL; and a host of nieces, nephews, relatives, and friends.
