

"Calm Seas and Fair Winds"

A Lasting Light

The smile you wore still lingers in our hearts, A gentle flame that time and space can't part. Not even life or death can break the thread— You live in every word we've ever said.

You were the one we turned to for your grace, Your wisdom, calm, and kind, familiar face. In every storm, you knew just what to do, And even now, we still confide in you.

We'll meet again—of this we're truly sure, A bond like ours is destined to endure. But while we wait, we want to say thank you, For all the strength and love you always knew.

You were our anchor, our guiding hand, The heart, the soul, the one who helped us stand. Now rest, be free, and let your worries cease— You've earned your place in everlasting peace.

And now you're with the one who shared your life, Reunited with your beautiful wife. Together once more, in love's warm embrace, In Heaven's light, you've found your resting place.

Though we can't see you, we feel you're near, In whispered thoughts, in every silent tear. This isn't goodbye, it's just "see you soon," Beneath the stars, the sun, or silver moon.

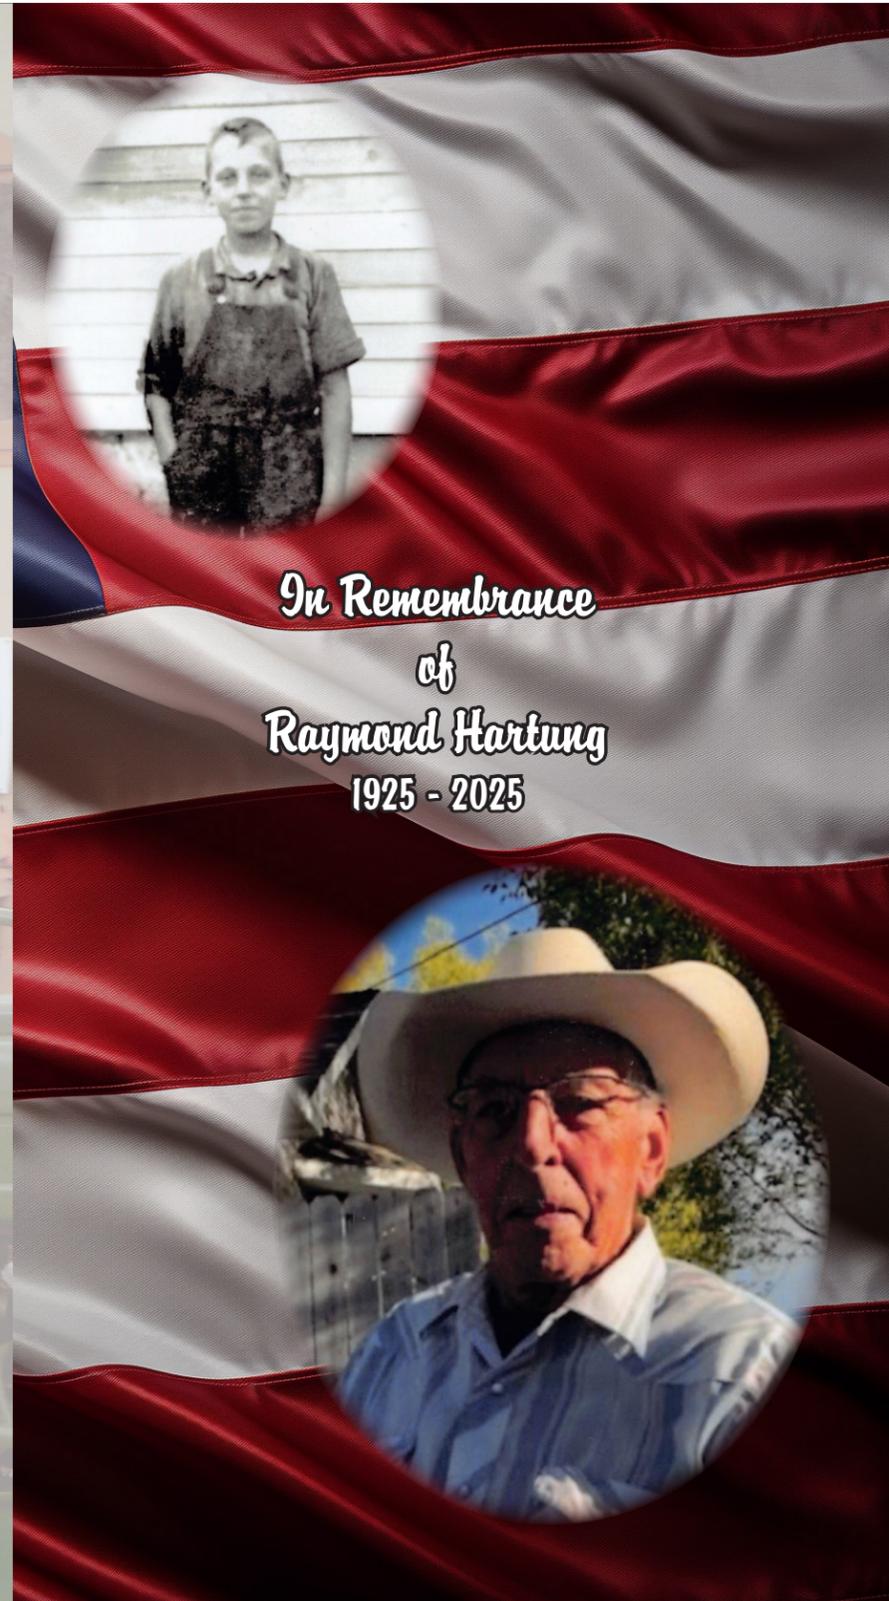

We love you still, and always will remain— The joy you gave lives on, through all the pain.

On behalf of the family...

To those of you who have come to share in this hour of remembrance; to those who have extended expressions of sympathy and offers of assistance during bereavement; to those who assisted on the program and cared for the flowers and any others who may have helped in any way, Thank you. May we say that your kind expressions of sympathy and caring are more deeply appreciated than any words can ever express.
