REMEMBERING MARK

Mark Carlos Williams was born on March 10, 1971, in South Boston, Virginia. He was the only child born to Mark and Mildred Williams.

Mark received his early education in the public schools of Halifax County, Virginia, and later graduated from Crossland High School in Temple Hills, Maryland. He was a faithful member of Mt. Ennon Baptist Church in Clinton, Maryland, for 42 years, where he devotedly served as a member of the Mt. Ennon Male Chorus and Transportation Ministry.

Mark worked as a Correctional Officer with the DC Department of Corrections. He also volunteered for the Prince George's County Fire Department, of which he was very proud. He was self-employed for more than twenty years as an independent tractor-trailer owner and driver. Most recently, he was employed as a heavy-duty tow truck driver.

Mark was a man who loved his family deeply and cherished the time he spent surrounded by the people he loved. Family was an important part of his life, and he had a special way of making everyone feel welcome and included. He treated his cousins and close friends like they were his brothers and sisters, creating bonds that went far beyond family ties.

Mark had a genuine love for cooking and especially enjoyed hosting summer cookouts for family and friends. He took great pleasure in preparing food for everyone, but he loved eating the food just as much! Those cook-outs were more than just meals—they were opportunities to bring people together, share stories, laugh, and make lasting memories.

Mark loved to laugh and had a gift for storytelling. He could tell a story in such a way that an entire room would erupt in laughter. His personality, humor, and ability to make people smile were truly special, and his laughter and stories will remain treasured memories for those who knew him.

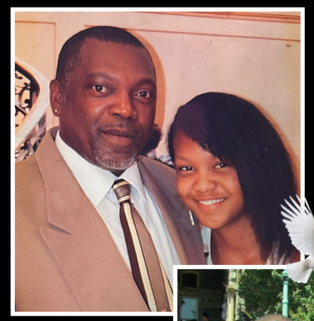

Mark was also known for his generosity. He loved giving gifts and enjoyed seeing the happiness his thought-fulness brought to others. He was the kind of person who would lend a helping hand whenever someone was in need. Whether it was family, a friend, or someone simply needing assistance, Mark was willing to help whenever he could. His generosity came from the heart, and he never hesitated to show others that he cared.

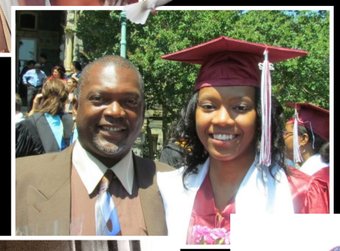

Music was another great love of Mark's. He enjoyed music of all kinds, with gospel music and down-home blues among his favorites. His appreciation for music was a reflection of his vibrant personality and his love of good times, good company, and creating memories.

Mark leaves to cherish his memory his mother, Mildred Williams; four children, Mark Carlos Williams II, Shanee' Young (Michael Young II), Markeshia Williams, and Enjoli Williams; two bonus children, Marqel Mann and Nathaniel Mann (Sierra Mann); six grandchildren, Ni'Ala, Karter, Logan, Lyndon, Madison, and Layla; and four bonus grandchildren, Ava, Nolan, Navy, and Alaya.

He is also survived by two aunts, Mrs. Sallie Nash and Alease Parson (Russell Parson Sr.); a host of brother cousins, Robert Nash, Anthony Nash, Rev. Kenneth Nash, and Russell Parson II; a host of sister cousins, Chandra Moore, Kyra Brigham, and Johniqua Brigham; his ex-wife, LaShawn Williams; Valerie "Val" Wil-liams (mother of Markeshia Williams) and Andrea Black (mother of Enjoli Williams); devoted friends, Ber-nard "Dickey" Dickens, Troy Rogers, Eric Johnson, Chauncey Johnson, Nate Wells, and Don Grape; and a host of other relatives and friends.

Mark leaves behind a legacy of love, laughter, generosity, family, friendship, music, and countless memories. He will be remembered for his big heart, his willingness to help others, his love of good food and good com-pany, his storytelling, and the joy he brought into the lives of those around him.
