

*This isn't goodbye or bid thee farewell. When the time comes,
we will meet you in the Heavenly realms.*

We Love You Mom, Corey and Nadine

Oh Mother, My Mother

What can be said about my mother?
There are no words because there can never be another.
You gave me life and I'm forever grateful
To know you is to love you and for that I'm thankful
We had our differences and didn't always see eye to eye
But that doesn't even matter now because we can't go back in time
I'm standing here with this void in my heart
Wondering how do I even begin or where I should start Closing my eyes wishing it was just a dream Asking God what does this all mean?
I Don't have the answers and maybe never will Rest assured Corey and I carry you with us every day until...

I Love You Mom

Life Reflections

On December 17, 1957, Ada Yarbrough and Charles Williams Jr. were favored to birth a set of beautiful twin baby girls, one of whom was Darlene Williams. She attended Dighton Rehoboth Regional High School in Dighton, Massachusetts, where she was a graduate of the class of 1977. Soon after graduation, Darlene married her then sweetheart, Leonard Montgomery. From that union, she was blessed with her firstborn child, Corey Montgomery.

Darlene was a very ambitious young lady who sought employment at the “Looking Good” store in Taunton, MA. From there, she transitioned to a more lucrative position as a data entry clerk with “Avon” in Attleboro, MA. Sometime in the early eighties, Darlene relocated from Berkely, MA to Boston and gained employment at Boston University Hospital as a medical secretary. She later met and fell in love with Hudson Samuel, and from that relationship, she was blessed with her beautiful daughter, Nadine Alicia Samuel.

With great ambition and determination to excel in life, Darlene enrolled and attended Roxbury Community College in furtherance of her education. Upon graduation, she accepted employment at Northeastern University as an administrative assistant in the transportation department, where her career there spanned 35 years until her retirement.

Darlene was a very caring person who loved life, her family, her friends and her community. She cared deeply about the environment and eagerly participated in a joint venture with Northeastern University and St. Marks Congregational United Church of Christ in the planting of trees throughout the community. Her commitment to helping others was evident in her willingness to assist Northeastern's new students with moving into their dorms and adjusting to campus life. In addition to serving her community and others, Darlene thoroughly enjoyed going to the casino in Foxwoods where she loved playing Bingo and just hanging out with her sister-friends who were dear to her heart.

Cherishing Darlene's memories are her children, Corey Montgomery and Nadine Alicia Samuel. Her parents, Ada Yarbrough and Charles Williams Jr., her siblings Charles “Chuckie” Williams III., her twin sister Dianne Williams-Worrell, and two other sisters, Vivian Williams-Brown and Jacyna Williams, her five grandchildren - Amari, D'mari, Jaden, Jaxon, and Nayara. One great-grandchild, Luna, one niece, and a host of nephews, great-nieces, and great-nephews.
