

Gone Riding

*Don't cry for me, I still ride free,
With the wind upon my face,
Leather in black, the sun on my back,
A priceless gift of God's grace.*

*I'll never grow old, on these streets of gold,
Chasing a majestic sunset,
And I still recall, how I love you all,
Sweet memories I won't forget.*

*And when your road ends, we'll meet again,
Inside the Pearly Gates,
And we'll laugh awhile and go ride for miles,
But for now, Heaven can wait.*

*When you do get here, don't shed one tear,
And think I'm in hiding,
Just search Heaven's shore, where the engines roar,
And you'll find that I've gone riding.*

Jesse James Beaman

Jesse James Beaman, 59, of Fayetteville, Arkansas, formerly of Sedalia, Missouri, passed away on Monday, June 29, 2026, at his home. He was born on August 13, 1966, in Sedalia, Missouri, the son of John P. Beaman and Myrtle Mae (Gregory) Beaman, who preceded him in death.

Jesse worked as a carpenter by trade and was also a talented tattoo artist. He was gifted in many creative ways, especially through music and art. Jesse enjoyed playing the guitar, keyboard, and drums, and he had a natural ability to draw just about anything. He also enjoyed riding motorcycles, attending concerts, and spending time with the many people who loved him. Jesse will be remembered for his artistic spirit, his love of music, and the friendships he made in every community he called home.

Jesse is survived by two children, Jeremy Beaman of Green Ridge, Missouri, and Candi Beaman of Odessa, Missouri; one stepson, William Pitts of Fayetteville, Arkansas; a granddaughter, April Marie Kay Beaman; six sisters, Floretta Smith of Sedalia, Wanda Stoneburner of Brookfield, Missouri, Madeline Kincaid and her husband James, Christina Mitchel and her husband Robbie, Angie Arnold and her husband David, and Sharon Ford; two brothers, Coty Beaman and his wife Robin, and Kelly Wallander and his wife Eydie; and many nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, cousins, and extended family members.

In addition to his parents, Jesse was preceded in death by five brothers, John “Sonny” Beaman, Joe Coke, Jr., David Coke, Danny Coke, and Lonny Coke; and two sisters, Mary Miller and Linda K. Coke.
