THE OBITUARY

MICHAEL MOORE was born February 14, 1956, (a Valentine's Day baby) in Detroit, Michigan. He was born the fifth of eight children. His parents were Elbert Moore Jr. and Izola Moore. They preceded him in death, along with his oldest sister, Ella Fields and youngest brother, Marcus Moore.

Michael attended Detroit Public Schools. He graduated from Northeastern High School. In high school he was able to express his love for auto mechanics. He joined the U. S. Navy in August of 1975 and was stationed in Jacksonville, Florida. He served until August of 1979. He was honorably discharged from active duty and transferred to the Naval Reserve.

Michael worked for the City of Detroit's Department of Transportation as a bus and diesel mechanic, after being discharged from the Navy. He was experienced in automotive repair, heavy duty machinery operations and equipment operation maintenance. He also studied Agriculture Technology through Michigan State University and worked with Veterans to Agriculture and Parks, Recreation and Natural Resources at Belle Isle Island.

Michael was baptized at the age of 12, a requirement of his mother for all her children. He loved church and attended all denominations throughout his lifetime. Michael truly had a servant's heart. He made a lasting impact on the lives of many. He not only received help but gave back to those in need, financially, spiritually and through his physical labor, be it plumbing, roofing, painting, demolition and carpentry.

Through years of physical challenges, Michael never lost his quiet strength. He never gave up on his commitment to God and his family. He loved playing basketball, swimming, shooting pool and chess. He enjoyed socializing and seeing others have a good time. His joy was walking, jogging and riding bikes. He loved being out in nature. Belle Isle beach was his favorite spot.

Although Michael never married, he had long-lasting special relationships. Out of one, he was blessed with a daughter, Muquita Little.

Michael Moore transitioned to his heavenly home to be with the Lord on Monday, April 5, 2021. He leaves to cherish his memory: his daughter, Muquita Little; two brothers, Ray and Joseph; three sisters, Dorothy Ward (David), Senno and Senzola; a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, grand nieces, grand nephews, many cousins, loving friends and a god-brother, Freddie Jackson.

Precious Memories...

...How they Linger
