

Tammy was born on October 30, 1975, in Amarillo, Texas, to Noe and Ester Castellano. She graduated from Caprock High School and went on to earn an associate degree from Amarillo College. Throughout her career, Tammy worked in a variety of industries, consistently stepping into leadership roles. She was known as a dedicated, hardworking, and responsible professional who took pride in everything she did.

Tammy had a vibrant personality and was truly the life of every party, she made sure to be the last one to leave or the last one to sleep. She loved playing games and cards with family and friends, often for money, and the games only ended after she won it all. She preferred to be around the ones she loved, but when alone, she enjoyed watching reality tv, as if the bickering with all of her sisters and brother in laws wasn't enough.

Tammy loved to travel with Keith, her long time boyfriend. Keith loved to show her off and for her birthday, they would often take trips, including going to Hawaii and South Dakota. A special trip she held dear was traveling to England a few years back, with her parents.

Family was everything to Tammy. She adored her siblings and was fiercely protective of those she loved. She will be remembered for her strength, her laughter, and her unwavering devotion to family—leaving behind countless memories and love that will forever continue.

She was preceded in death by her niece, Samantha Stone.

Tammy is survived by Keith Pearce; her parents, Noe and Ester Castellano; her sisters, Joni Stone and husband Adam, Rose Hambrick and husband Geremey Canada, and Andrea Washington and husband Jayton; her beloved nieces and nephews whom she often treated as her own kids, Andrue Stone, Jackson Hambrick, Benjamin Hambrick, Jayton Washington Jr., and Alaina Washington.

In Loving Memory
