

"To My Mom"

Although it was six years ago, it feels like yesterday that I wrote my last goodbye to Dad—and now I'm devastated that I have to write my last goodbye to you. My thoughts and emotions have been in shambles because I didn't want to envision this day. I've attempted to find the words while drawing a blank, surrounded by a sea of my tears.

As I sit here and reflect on our journey, I get stuck on the argument we had several months ago. I can't recall why it happened, but in the midst of voicing my frustrations, I acknowledged that a huge part of my character is directly because of you: speaking my mind, being stubborn, wanting to be loved, always finding a moment to crack a joke or talk about somebody, being okay with talking through emotions to anyone without fear of judgment, fighting for what I believe in, looking mean at all times unless I'm smiling, and letting everyone know I'm the good-looking one—because I got your hair.

And we walked away from that argument with a laugh.

You pushed me in the only way you knew how, and I thank you for that. I thank you for sticking around to love on Adrianna. It brought me so much joy seeing you two interact, laugh, and play. She loves her Grammy.

Your last words to me were, "Take care of Adrianna," and I will make sure she never forgets how much you loved her.

As your body sleeps, I pray that you and Dad are looking down over us with a smile.

Signed with love and appreciation, Your Shadow

Rico

"A Letter to My Mom"

Thanks for everything that you have done for me. Thanks for all the lessons that you have taught me. Most importantly, thanks for ALL the love that you've shown me. You will always be loved & missed!!! I pray that I make you & Pops proud!

Tony

"A Letter From My Mom"

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one, I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.

I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways, of happy times and laughing times and bright & sunny days.

I'd like the tears of those who grieve to dry before the sun of happy memories that I leave behind when my Earthly life is done.

In Loving MEMORY

Obituary

Sarah Ann Hill was born on June 11, 1950, to the loving union of Mr. Earnest Sr. and Mrs. Jaunita Foster in Pike County, Georgia, but spent most of her life in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Sarah was introduced to Christ and gave her life to Him at an early age, being baptized at New Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, which was eventually united with Mt. Moriah Baptist Church.

She received her formal education at Pike County Consolidated High School in Pike County.

Sarah was united in holy matrimony with Jerry Hill Sr. on September 13, 1973, in Cincinnati, Ohio. This union was blessed with two biological children and a host of extended children.

While in Cincinnati, Sarah worked at Jewish Hospital in a variety of positions—helping to deliver babies and serving as a surgical technician, just to name a few. She also continued her spiritual journey at Greater New Light but eventually became a faithful member of Overflow Ministries.

Throughout her life, she lived by one of her favorite passages of the Bible: Psalm 23.

Sarah was preceded in her transition from earthly sorrow to heavenly reward by her beloved husband, Jerry Hill Sr.; her son, Jerry Hill Jr.; her parents, Earnest Sr. and Jaunita Foster; and two of her brothers, Earnest Jr. and Charles.

She leaves to cherish her memory her sons, Rico and Tony; her grandchildren, Daria “Chubbs” and Adrianna (who was definitely her favorite); and her great-granddaughter, Dakota “Olive.”

She is also survived by her sisters, Annie Laura Foster, Ruth Favors, and Joanna Wilkins; two remaining best friends, Aunt Opal and Aunt Susie; a host of extended children including Tiron Jones and Orlando Jackson Sr.; and extended grandchildren: Paris Jones, Dior Jones, Ryan Kinnard Sr., Orlando Jackson Jr., Dontonio Jackson, Te’arrah Smith, Landon Jackson, Tyree Jackson, Terrell Jackson, Deshawn Jackson, and Deon Jackson.

She also leaves behind many in-laws, loved ones, family, and friends.
