A SPECIAL THANKS

The family of Mrs. Delores Black Armstrong wishes to express heartfelt gratitude for the outpouring of love, support, and sympathy extended to us during this time of loss. Your kind gestures, comforting words, and presence have been a source of immeasurable strength as we celebrate the life of our beloved mother, aunt, and friend.

We extend our sincere appreciation to our relatives and friends who offered unwavering support, shared fond memories, and provided comfort throughout this season of sickness.

Ronnie & Velma Armstrong, Carlos Sr., Stephanie Jones, & Trennis Jones — for attending to the countless details beyond medical care. Your tireless acts of service brought comfort and peace to Mother and Aunt Delores throughout the years, and we are deeply grateful.

Sharon Cooper and Yvonne Harper, and all others who reached out and lent helping hands wherever needed — your love did not go unnoticed.

Special thanks to Patricia Broussard, Pete Broussard, and Logan Broussard of T.L.C. Angels Home Care for the exceptional, compassionate care provided to Aunt Delores during her final years. Your dedication went far beyond duty and touched our hearts deeply.

Special thanks to the medical staff and caregivers of Divine Grace Healthcare for the compassionate around-the-clock care and steadfast support provided to Delores throughout her illness.

Trina Smith, RN, DGN

Your acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy have touched our hearts and will forever be remembered. May the love and support we have received stand as a lasting testament to the profound impact Aunt Delores had on all our lives.
Many thanks to Blue Ridge Global Methodist Church, Pastor Ross Adams, and Troy B. Smith for your service and assistance shown to our family.

With Deep Gratitude and Love,
The Armstrong Family

Obituary

Mrs. Delores Black Armstrong peacefully transitioned to her heavenly home on June 27, 2026, following a courageous journey through declining health. Throughout her illness, her unwavering faith in God and her deep love for family sustained her with strength, comfort, and peace.

Delores was born on March 29, 1935, in DeRidder, Louisiana, to the late Peggy and Dorsey Black. She was the middle of three daughters. She was preceded in death by her beloved sister, Bobbie Beauford of Columbus, Georgia, and is survived by her dear sister, Elizabeth Brown of Palos Verdes Estates, California.

At an early age, Delores accepted Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior and became a member of Sweet Home Baptist Church in DeRidder, Louisiana. She graduated from George Washington Carver High School in 1953 and continued her education at Grambling College (now Grambling State University), where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration in 1957.

On May 24, 1958, Delores married the love of her life, Emmitt Armstrong, Jr. Together they built a loving home centered on faith, education, and service. Their union was blessed with a daughter, Evetta Armstrong, born on November 24, 1958. Delores also lovingly embraced Emmitt's son, Ronnie Armstrong, as her own, creating a close and devoted family.

Delores began her distinguished career as a Business Education teacher at George Washington Carver High School. She and Emmitt later relocated to Houston, Texas, where she continued teaching business courses at Reagan High School. During her more than 30 years as an educator, she inspired countless students through her knowledge, patience, and unwavering commitment to excellence.

Beyond the classroom, Delores and Emmitt opened their hearts and home to Renee Paul (who preceded her in death) and Theodis Wayne Paul, serving as their guardians and providing loving care and guidance until both had graduated from high school and established lives of their own.

Following her retirement from education, Delores devoted herself wholeheartedly to caring for others. She lovingly cared for her mother after relocating her to Houston as her health declined, remaining faithfully by her side until her passing. She later became the devoted caregiver to her beloved husband, Emmitt, faithfully ministering to him through his health challenges until his passing on December 16, 2016.

A servant at heart, Delores volunteered with the YMCA, where she found great joy in mentoring and encouraging youth. She also served faithfully for many years as an usher at Brentwood Baptist Church, welcoming others with kindness and grace.

During the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, Delores became a faithful supporter of Inspiration Church through its online ministry. Though declining health prevented her from attending in person in later years, she remained steadfast in her faith and continued to worship from home. She united with Blueridge Global Methodist Church, in Houston's Sunnyside community, under the spiritual care of Chaplain Dr. Higgins of Divine Grace.

Family was the greatest joy of Delores' life. She treasured every opportunity to spend time with her children, grandson, and extended family. As her health declined, she was surrounded by extraordinary love, compassion, and unwavering devotion. Her daughter, Evetta Armstrong, and son, Ronnie Armstrong, along with Velma Armstrong, faithfully cared for and supported her. Her nephews, Carlos Jones and Trennis Jones, also played an instrumental role in ensuring she was embraced by family and love until the Lord called her home.

Delores was further blessed by the exceptional daily care provided by Patricia, Pete, and Logan Broussard, owners of T.L.C. Angels Home Care, whose kindness, compassion, and dedication enriched her life immeasurably. She also received outstanding care from the Divine Grace Hospice team, led by Nurse Carol Pitts and Chaplain Rev. Dr. Mary Higgins, along with their devoted caregivers, whose professional expertise, comfort, and genuine love brought peace and dignity throughout her final years.

The family is forever grateful to each person who walked alongside Delores with such tenderness, faithfully reflecting God's love through their service and care. Delores leaves to cherish her precious memory her devoted daughter, Evetta Armstrong; her son, Ronnie Armstrong, and daughter-in-law, Velma Patrice Armstrong; her beloved grandson, Joshua D. Armstrong; her dear sister, Elizabeth Brown; nieces, Antoinette Brown, Allison Brown, Frank E. Beauford, Jr., Anita Beauford, Peggy Scott; and a host of cherished nieces, nephews, cousins, extended family members, dear friends, former students, and all whose lives were blessed by her love, wisdom, and gentle spirit.

Though she will be deeply missed, we rejoice in the assurance that she has heard the words, "Well done, good and faithful servant." Her legacy of faith, service, compassion, and unconditional love will continue to inspire all who were privileged to know and love her.
