

Let Go and Let God

When you're searching for truth and you can't find your way, when people don't hear what you say, and the answers won't come to the things that you pray. It's time to let go And let God... Let go of bad and good will appear, Trust in the knowledge that He's always near, That answers and choices are always more clear when you can let go and let God. Just lift up your hands and surrender your heart, Tell Him your worries and He'll do His part, Let go of the past and your future will start, When you finally let go and let God. May prayers and faith and knowing you're loved carry you through times of doubt, and lead you to perfect peace.

After grief and sorrow comes peace.....

Hope.....

And then

Like the flowers

Of the field,

Joy blooms

Once again.
