

Broken Chain

We little knew that day,
 God was going to call your name.
 In life we loved you dearly,
 In death, we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you.
 You did not go alone.
 For part of us went with you,
 The day God called you home.

You left us beautiful memories,
 Your love is still our guide.
 And although we cannot see you,
 You are always at our side.

Our family chain is broken,
 And nothing seems the same,
 But as God calls us one by one,
 The chain will link again.

Acknowledgements

We extend our deepest gratitude to the friends, family, and loved ones who have come together today to honor and remember Precious Dixon Harmon. Your presence brings comfort and strength as we navigate this time of sorrow.

The outpouring of love, support, and shared memories has been a powerful source of healing for our grieving hearts. We are truly thankful for your kind words, thoughtful gestures, and the heartfelt compassion you've shown.

In this moment of collective remembrance, we find peace in knowing that Precious' legacy lives on within each of us and she is no longer in pain. Her life touched so many, and the memories we carry will continue to inspire and uplift.

Thank you for standing with us during this tender time. Your presence is a reflection of the deep bonds we share, and your support has brought light to our heaviest days.

With deepest gratitude,
 The Harmon Family

LESTER LACKEY & SONS FUNERAL HOME INC.
 1163 Reynolds Street SW
 Covington, GA 30014

Celebrating THE LIFE OF

Precious Harmon

JUNE 13, 1959 - APRIL 28, 2025

Friday, May 9, 2025
 11:00AM
 Bethlehem Baptist Church
 2177 Usher Street
 Covington, GA, 300014

Obituary

Precious Dixon Harmon was born on June 13, 1959, in Paterson, New Jersey to the late Martha Clark and Stewart Russell. A childhood filled with non-stop laughter, love, and protection is a rare and beautiful gift—and that’s exactly what Precious experienced. Growing up in the Christopher Columbus Projects (CCP) alongside her six siblings, she was immersed in a world filled with constant laughter, unwavering love, and the kind of protection only a close-knit family can provide. Known as the ultimate jokester, she had an unmatched talent for lighting up any room with her quick wit and playful spirit. Her humor was more than just entertainment; it was her way of spreading love and lifting spirits, even during the toughest times.

Precious graduated from Kennedy High School and went on to build a successful career in the banking industry. With a natural gift for connecting with people, she approached every role—not just professionally, but in life—with compassion, integrity, and grace. Her work ethic was unmatched, but it was her kindness and ability to uplift those around her that truly set her apart.

In 1986, Precious’s life was forever changed when she welcomed her first son, Ja’von, into the world. From that moment on, she embraced motherhood with her whole heart, providing him with unwavering love, patience, and strength. Becoming a mother gave her a new sense of purpose—it grounded her, motivated her, and brought out the very best in her. She loved fiercely, protected without hesitation, and guided with wisdom and care.

In 2000, Precious married Kevin Harmon. Shortly after their marriage, Precious was blessed with the gift of motherhood once again when she gave birth to her youngest son and her partner in crime -Ke’Von. Each of her children held a special place in her heart, and she made sure they knew, every single day, just how deeply they were loved. Her children were not just her pride and joy—they were her purpose, her reason for pushing forward, and the greatest reflection of her generous, resilient spirit.

She often said that being a mother brought her immense joy—but nothing could have prepared her for the love she would feel when she became a grandmother. The arrival of her grandson, King and granddaughter, Se’Vyn lifted her heart to an entirely new height. Her bond with them was unbreakable, tender, and full of laughter. King, who affectionately named her “P-Ma,” brought out a playful and radiant side of her that everyone adored. He would confidently tell her how things should be done, issue his little “orders,” and shower her with the kind of love only a grandchild can give. P-Ma embraced it all with a smile, cherishing every moment and every word. With Se’Vyn, her heart expanded even more—another precious light in her life who made her feel even more complete. Her grandchildren became her world, and in their presence, her love soared beyond anything she had ever known.

To be loved by Precious was to be loved wholly, without condition. She gave freely, forgave easily, and always found a way to bring light into the darkest of days. Her legacy lives on not only in her children and grandchildren, but in every life, she touched with her generosity, laughter, and unshakable love.

Her world was turned upside down when she was diagnosed with breast cancer in 2010, but she never allowed that challenge to define her. With remarkable courage and grace, she continued to live life on her own terms, embracing each day with determination and love. She fought fiercely, drawing strength from her family and faith, until the very end—when she had no fight left in her, only peace.

Predeceased in death by her beloved parents, Martha and Ronald Clark, whose unwavering love and guidance shaped the foundation of her life. Also preceding her in death is her dearly missed siblings: Vanessa Dixon-Dean, Luzella 'Pluke' Dixon and Diana Dixon-Smith. Each occupied a meaningful place in her heart and is remembered with enduring affection.

Precious is survived by her husband, Kevin Harmon, her children, Ja’Von (Adhama) Coe, Kevin Harmon and Ke’Von (Shyanne) Harmon, grandchildren, King Coe and Se’Vyn Coe, siblings: Gwen Dixon-West, Londell (Jacqueline) Dixon, Stewart Russell Jr., and Jason Russell., and many cherished cousins, special nieces/nephews, great nieces/nephews and so many friends. She will deeply be missed by all who had the privilege of knowing her.

Precious treasured legacy will forever remain in the hearts of those who loved her, inspiring generations to come with her kindness, compassion, and strength. Through her steadfast devotion to family and friends, she gifted us with countless beloved memories, and her wisdom will continue to light our way through both joys and challenges.

Order of Service

Processional

Scripture Reading

Old Testament

Evangelist Dorothy Coe-McBride

New Testament

Elder Johnnie Coe

Prayer

ALL

Music Selection

Tributes

2 minutes Please | Family & Friends

Acknowledgement

Djuana Williams

Reading of Obituary

Chandra Mitchell

Musical Selection

Eulogy

Pastor Milena Eason

Recessional

Clergy, Family & Friend