

We'll miss you on the open road,
Where freedom's call would never fold.
Your engine's roar, a memory bright,
A biker's soul, a shining light.
Though miles may fade, our hearts remain,
Until we meet on Heaven's lane.

In Loving Memory

Bradly Cordell Orr

February 7, 1996 ~ April 7, 2025

Wilks
FUNERAL HOMES

We'll miss you on the open road,
Where freedom's call would never fold.
Your engine's roar, a memory bright,
A biker's soul, a shining light.
Though miles may fade, our hearts remain,
Until we meet on Heaven's lane.

In Loving Memory

Bradly Cordell Orr

February 7, 1996 ~ April 7, 2025

Wilks
FUNERAL HOMES

Bradly Cordell Orr, 29, passed away on April 7, 2025. Brad was born on February 7, 1996, in Idaho Falls, Idaho. He was born to Bobbie Staples and John Fanning. His story started when his three older sisters found out they were going to get a baby brother. They were so excited and couldn't wait to meet him. Once he was born, they were over the moon with love and joy for Brad. From that day on, he had the joys of growing up with his three older sisters, who tormented him a lot. They would tie him to things, they would get him to put dresses on and would even put make up on him when he was sleeping. He took it all very well most of the time.

Brad grew up around horses, which he enjoyed very much. He loved to saddle them up whenever he had the chance. Then he started raising rabbits with the rest of his family. He loved doing family activities. He joined 4-H and went to rabbit shows that he just blossomed at. He really did enjoy and love his critters.

Brad enjoyed being a father to his son and daughter and his daughter was a major daddy's girl. Brad also enjoyed riding his motorcycle, come rain, snow, or shine. He loved helping his mom work on her bike and he enjoyed fishing, camping, being outdoors and just feeling the wind blowing on him. He loved his cats and he was a very good cat dad. He loved his little kitties. They were his furry best friends.

Brad was a very friendly, kindhearted person who would give anyone the shirt off his back with no questions asked. He was willing to help anyone out if they ever asked, or he would just jump into whatever was needed in order to get it done. He enjoyed finding different decals to put on his motorcycle with his mom and having her show him how to cut them out. He really was a momma's boy.

Brad loved his family and his kids with everything he had in him. He was very close to his mom and sisters. He always tried to act tough but deep down he was a true softy and very, very smart. He loved working on cars. He was working at an amazing company, Courtesy Ford and the Meador Family in Pocatello, Idaho, and he loved every minute of being there.

Brad hit a rough patch for a little bit but then he turned everything around and was doing amazing in life. He loved his nieces and nephews very much and had a really close bond with all of them. They loved him just as much. He loved to show up to his family's houses and walk in, go to the fridge or cupboard, and take whatever snacks he wanted and then just leave. Just a quick, hi, and bye.

Brad was a very outgoing person and when he set his mind on something, he got it done. Nothing in this world was going to stop him. He loved keeping himself busy and loved spending time doing what he loved, and with everyone he loved. He will be greatly missed by so many people, but he will live on in everyone's hearts and memories.

Brad leaves behind his mother, Chrystall Orr (Bobbie Staples); his father, John Fanning; his sister, Devany, and brother-in-law, LA McNamara; his sister, Kassandra Orr (KC), and brother-in-law Ryan Drzal; his daughter, Lyla Orr; and his son, Tyduce Orr; his grandmother, Leslie fanning; Brad's little sister, Jessica Fanning; and his 6 nephews and 6 nieces.

Brad was preceded in death by his grandmother, Laura Mae Orr; his grandpa Fanning; his aunt Billie Ellsworth; and his sister, Billie Orr.

Bradly Cordell Orr, 29, passed away on April 7, 2025. Brad was born on February 7, 1996, in Idaho Falls, Idaho. He was born to Bobbie Staples and John Fanning. His story started when his three older sisters found out they were going to get a baby brother. They were so excited and couldn't wait to meet him. Once he was born, they were over the moon with love and joy for Brad. From that day on, he had the joys of growing up with his three older sisters, who tormented him a lot. They would tie him to things, they would get him to put dresses on and would even put make up on him when he was sleeping. He took it all very well most of the time.

Brad grew up around horses, which he enjoyed very much. He loved to saddle them up whenever he had the chance. Then he started raising rabbits with the rest of his family. He loved doing family activities. He joined 4-H and went to rabbit shows that he just blossomed at. He really did enjoy and love his critters.

Brad enjoyed being a father to his son and daughter and his daughter was a major daddy's girl. Brad also enjoyed riding his motorcycle, come rain, snow, or shine. He loved helping his mom work on her bike and he enjoyed fishing, camping, being outdoors and just feeling the wind blowing on him. He loved his cats and he was a very good cat dad. He loved his little kitties. They were his furry best friends.

Brad was a very friendly, kindhearted person who would give anyone the shirt off his back with no questions asked. He was willing to help anyone out if they ever asked, or he would just jump into whatever was needed in order to get it done. He enjoyed finding different decals to put on his motorcycle with his mom and having her show him how to cut them out. He really was a momma's boy.

Brad loved his family and his kids with everything he had in him. He was very close to his mom and sisters. He always tried to act tough but deep down he was a true softy and very, very smart. He loved working on cars. He was working at an amazing company, Courtesy Ford and the Meador Family in Pocatello, Idaho, and he loved every minute of being there.

Brad hit a rough patch for a little bit but then he turned everything around and was doing amazing in life. He loved his nieces and nephews very much and had a really close bond with all of them. They loved him just as much. He loved to show up to his family's houses and walk in, go to the fridge or cupboard, and take whatever snacks he wanted and then just leave. Just a quick, hi, and bye.

Brad was a very outgoing person and when he set his mind on something, he got it done. Nothing in this world was going to stop him. He loved keeping himself busy and loved spending time doing what he loved, and with everyone he loved. He will be greatly missed by so many people, but he will live on in everyone's hearts and memories.

Brad leaves behind his mother, Chrystall Orr (Bobbie Staples); his father, John Fanning; his sister, Devany, and brother-in-law, LA McNamara; his sister, Kassandra Orr (KC), and brother-in-law Ryan Drzal; his daughter, Lyla Orr; and his son, Tyduce Orr; his grandmother, Leslie fanning; Brad's little sister, Jessica Fanning; and his 6 nephews and 6 nieces.

Brad was preceded in death by his grandmother, Laura Mae Orr; his grandpa Fanning; his aunt Billie Ellsworth; and his sister, Billie Orr.