

Your absence is heavy,
but your memory is stronger. You gave me
more than I ever expected
—more joy, more love,
more perspective. And even though your life was too short, your impact was deep. You were my son.

REVEREND GILBERT KINSEY

Obituary

Darell Antuan Brown was a loving son to Darlene Glover and Anthony Brown, and his absence will be profoundly felt by his family and all who knew him. A gentle soul filled with warmth and kindness, Darell illuminated the lives of those around him with his infectious smile and unwavering compassion.

Born in Philadelphia, PA on February 10, 1989, to Darlene and Anthony, Darell was educated in the Philadelphia school system and later earned his GED. He worked diligently throughout his life, holding positions as a laborer and most recently as a gas attendant. Previously, as a Sales Associate at Family Dollar, Darell treated every customer like family. His dedication, kindness, and strong work ethic left a lasting impression on everyone he met.

From a young age, Darell was shy and soft-spoken, yet his personality shone brightly. He loved to dance as a child and found joy in simple pleasures. In more recent years, playing video games, visiting the library, and listening to music with his ever-present headphones. A true foodie, his favorite meals were cheesesteaks and pizza. Though he never had children of his own, his gentle spirit drew children to him naturally; they felt safe and loved in his presence.

Darell was preceded in death by his maternal and paternal grandparents: Alma and George, Earl and Joan Nichols, and his stepfather Julius Glover.

He leaves to cherish his memory his loving parents, Darlene Glover and Anthony Brown; his siblings Tyeshia, Tajh, Marquis Anthony, Nakia, Tyrone, Rasheena, Antoinette, Aaron, and Keenan; aunts and uncles Dennis and Vivian (who treated him as their own son), Carolyn, William (Helen), Charles (Senora), and Troy; along with a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives, and friends.

In this time of sorrow, we find comfort in the love, laughter, and memories we shared with Darell Antuan Brown—a remarkable person who will be deeply missed but never forgotten.
