

TO MY FAMILY

I know you're missing me, but please don't stay sad for too long. I'm okay. In fact, it's beautiful here more beautiful than I could ever explain.

There is peace, joy, and love all around me.

I've been reunited with Mom, Dad, my brother, my sister, and so many family members who went on before me. And yes, me and Prune have already found a good fishing spot and are spending time together again.

Don't let my leaving divide you. Let it bring you closer. Check on one another. Love one another.
Forgive one another. Hold your family tight because time is precious.

When you think of me, don't only think about the day I left. Think about the smiles I shared, the jokes I told, the lessons I tried to teach, and the love I had for all of you.
Please know that I'm at peace. I'm no longer hurting. I'm resting in the presence of God and surrounded by loved ones once again.

To my family, thank you for loving me. Carry on the family traditions, keep the memories alive, and take care of one another.

So whenever you look up at the sky, smile for me.
Keep living, keep loving, keep trusting God, and keep making memories together.
Until we meet again, know that I love you all.

Love Always,
Dingo
