

Ronald Glenn was many things in this life—a hustler, a motivator, and above all, a man who loved God. He lived with passion, conviction, and a faith that anchored him through life's highs and lows. Whether encouraging others or just showing up with his signature smile, Ronald was the kind of man who left a mark wherever he went.

Born on July 5, 1968, in Baltimore, Maryland, Ronald was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System. He lived life fully, in the moment, never missing an opportunity to laugh, connect, or lend a helping hand.

He had a deep love for comforting meals—both cooking and enjoying them—and had a serious sweet tooth that made candy an all-day companion. He was gifted with his hands, known for his talent in home improvement and maintenance work, and spent much of his life bringing things back to life—whether it was a room, a project, or someone's spirit. In his early days, he worked with his mother at Nixon's Farm, learning values of hard work and dedication that carried him through life.

Ronald is preceded in death by his father Charles Glenn Sr., his step-father John Edwards Sr. and beloved brothers, Charles Glenn and John Edwards Jr.

He leaves behind a loving family who will forever carry his memory:

His devoted mother, Barbara Edwards;

His daughter, Ashley Glenn;

His siblings, Myra Edwards, Cheryl Edwards, and Johnnie Edwards;

His cousin and sister in spirit, Shanon White;

And his two lifelong best friends, Eddie and Tony.

He also leaves behind a host of nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, cousins, and dear friends—too many to name, but each one touched by his generous heart, humor, and unwavering loyalty.

Ronald lived loudly and loved deeply. His presence was bold, his faith was strong, and his love was real. As we say goodbye, we hold on tight to the memories, the laughter, and the lessons he leaves with us.

May he rest in peace and power.
