

Celebrating
the Life of

Timothy
James
Mahan

You will be forever in our hearts.

Stop all the clocks, cut off the telephone,
Prevent the dog from barking with a juicy bone,
Silence the pianos and with muffled drum
Bring out the coffin, let the mourners come.

Let airplanes circle moaning overhead
Scribbling on the sky the message: He Is Dead.

We gather now at the Holy Mass
We are here to mark the moment you passed.

You were our North and South, our East and West
Our working week and our Sunday rest
Our noon, our midnight, our talk, our song,
We thought our time on earth would last forever;
We were wrong.

God saw that you were getting tired and a cure was not to be
So, he put his arms around you and He whispered, “Come with me”

With tearful eyes we were there with you and saw you fade away
Although we loved you dearly
we knew you could not stay

A golden heart stopped beating hard working hands to rest
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.
