Life Reflections

Mother Georgia Y. Moore, born on December 30, 1944, in Washington, D.C., peacefully departed this life on May 9, 2026. As she entered eternal rest, God spoke softly and said, "Well done, My good and faithful servant. Take your rest in My arms."

Georgia was the daughter of the late Shelly and Ella Hall. She was one of 19 children, the 17th sibling in a large and loving family. Raised in Prince George's County, Maryland, she grew up surrounded by family, friends, and a strong sense of community. She attended Prince George's County Public Schools and later worked as a teacher's aide with the Washington, D.C., School System. Her passion for helping children extended far beyond the classroom and became a defining part of her life.

From an early age, Georgia's life was rooted in faith. At age 15, she accepted the Lord as her Savior and devoted herself to serving Him. She expressed her love for God through music as a member of the gospel group The William Special, using her gifts to inspire and encourage others.

As her faith continued to grow, so did her commitment to ministry. In the early 1970s, she was ordained as a missionary and faithfully shared the Gospel wherever she went. Her dedication to serving others remained steadfast throughout her life.

Mother Georgia Moore also faithfully served her church family at New Beginning World Center Global Outreach Ministry under the leadership of Overseer Richard Sanders and Apostle Candy Sanders. There, she ministered to others as a spiritual mentor, offering wisdom, encouragement, and guidance to all who sought her counsel.

While her faith was central to her life, her family was one of her greatest blessings. Georgia married her husband, Charlie Moore, and together they raised three children: Charlene, Lisa, and Keith. In time, she retired to devote herself more fully to her loved ones, caring not only for her own children but also for many others whom she embraced as family.

She leaves to cherish her memory her children, Charlene, Lisa, and Keith; her grandchildren, Nene, Meeka, Juju, Kevin, Danielle, Mathew, and Shawwnetta; her great-grandchildren, Justice and Christopher; her great-great-grandchildren, Messiah and Tyson; along with a host of relatives, church family, friends, and all whose lives she touched.

Georgia's compassion reached far beyond her home and church. Her ministry extended into the community through service at food banks, clothing banks, and countless acts of kindness. She believed deeply in helping those in need and sharing God's love through both words and actions.

Those who knew Georgia will remember her vibrant personality and joyful spirit. She was comical, strong-willed, and at times lovingly stubborn. Her laughter could brighten any room, while her wisdom, strength, and compassion left a lasting impression on everyone she met. She also enjoyed traveling and embraced new experiences with enthusiasm and joy.

The legacy Mother Georgia Moore leaves behind is one of unwavering faith, selfless service, enduring love, and devotion to both God and family. Though she will be deeply missed, her memory, example, and the lives she touched will continue to inspire generations to come. "Well done, good and faithful servant... Enter into the joy of your Lord." — Matthew 25:23

Afterglow

*I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun;
Of happy memories that I leave when life is done.*
