

ROSETTA

A short poem for Rosetta
Our sister and our friend
Ten years ago, she suffered woe
and never quite did mend.

Her life was changed, in moments
By a cowardly act, you see
That shattered not just her life
But the entire family

Her journey ended suddenly
Her battle came to end
She's sleeping now, but soon she will wake
And the REAL LIFE will begin.

So sleep our precious sister
You are now truly free
Jehovah knew your struggle and
You're in his memory.

For death will soon have passed away
And life will still prevail
And we shall meet again someday
But in a pain-free world.

- Your sisters Anita and Gloria

OBITUARY

Rosetta Mitchell was born on March 30, 1954, to parents James and Florence Mitchell in Baltimore, Maryland. She fell asleep in death on October 11, 2022.

Rosetta was affectionately known as Rodie by family and friends who loved her dearly.

Rosetta received her education in the Baltimore City School system. Although she was a victim of gun violence, an innocent bystander who survived a gunshot wound to the head, she never lost her joy. She continued to recognize family members and often showed her love by providing a kind smile and affectionate expressions when they would visit. She loved music, dressing up, having her nails done and jewelry, especially beautiful earrings. When Hilda Coleman would visit Rosetta and ask her to dance, Rosetta was always ready to dance in the bed.

Rosetta Mitchell was preceded in death by her father James Mitchell, and two sisters Tresia Smothers and Barbara Scott. She leaves to mourn her beloved son Rodney Mitchell; mother Florence Mitchell; sisters Gloria Mitchell and Anita Mitchell; brother James Mitchell; many cousins, nieces, nephews and extended family members who loved her dearly.
