

WHEN I DIE

A Poem by Georgia Young

Each morning I'm grateful to wake up another day.
 God and God alone knows when we shall pass away.
 When I die and leave here look for me in a better place.
 No more pain and suffering, I'll see Him face to face.
 When I die and go away I'll miss all of you here.
 I'll be somewhere in glory, no disappointments or fear.
 When I die remember me, helping others as they passed along.
 Knowing deep in my heart, refusing to help others is wrong
 When I die and leave this earth, I'll be missed by those who care.
 My face you'll see no more, but my spirit will still be here.
 When I die mourn for me not, I'll be gone from this land.
 I long for that moment when I can touch the Master's hand.
 When I die, be happy for me that I've moved on to a better place.
 Govern your life according to His word and know that sufficient is His grace.
 Georgia Young

OBITUARY

Mrs. Georgia Young was born on May 2, 1940, in Greenwood County, South Carolina, to the late Mary Brown Talbert and John T. Chiles, Sr. She peacefully departed this life on September 14, 2026. At the time of her passing, she resided with her sister in Fayetteville, North Carolina. Georgia was raised in Queens, New York, where she met and married the love of her life, Robert Williams, Sr. Their union was blessed with a loving and fun-spirited son, Robert Williams, Jr. Both Robert Sr. and Robert Jr. preceded her in death.

Years later, Georgia re-married to David Young who also preceded her in death.

Georgia lived a rich, fulfilling, and accomplished life. She earned an Associate Degree in Applied Science in 1976 and began a vocational nursing program the following year. Her commitment to caring for others led her to become a registered nurse. She continued her education, earning a Bachelor of Science degree in 1988 and completing additional studies in Psychiatric Nursing in 1995. Georgia’s professional journey included serving as a head nurse at Elmhurst Hospital. She later worked at Rikers Island Correctional Facility, where she remained until her retirement. Georgia’s nursing career reflected her compassion, strength, leadership, and dedication to helping others.

Georgia was equally devoted to her faith. She faithfully served as a deaconess and was recognized in 2008 with a plaque honoring her service and commitment to God. For more than 60 years, she was a devoted member of Antioch First Baptist Church. Affectionately known as “Sweet Georgia” and “Georgia Peach,” Georgia had a vibrant personality and many talents.

She was a wonderful cook who was especially known for her delicious collard greens and sweet potato pies. As much as she loved to cook, she also loved to eat. She enjoyed honey mustard pretzels, White Castle meals, trips to the bingo hall, and visits to 7-Eleven to purchase her favorite scratch-offs. Georgia was a woman of many gifts. She was a singer, a talented rapper, and a published author.

She enjoyed life, brought laughter to those around her, and left lasting memories in the hearts of everyone who knew and loved her. Georgia will be lovingly remembered and deeply missed by her four grandchildren, Simone Williams, Shaun Williams, Robert Williams, Jr., and Sequoia Williams, and her three great-grandchildren, Jurnee Williams, Shaun Williams, and Royalty Williams.

She also leaves to cherish her memory her sisters, Elizabeth Fuller, Joyce

Brown, Joeann Russell, Jacqueline Spears (Jeffrey Spears), Tawanda Chiles Quarles (Vernon), Betty Chiles, Janice Chiles, and Theresa Chiles Wright (David), and her brothers, John T. Chiles, Jr. (Alfrad), James Chiles (Elaine), Willie Chiles, Thaddeus Chiles (Tara), and Lenard Chiles (Tameka).

Georgia will also be lovingly remembered by her dear friends of more than 60 years, Terry Harris and Alice Babb; honorary daughters, Evette Williams, Larissa Williams, and Tennile Sanders; and beloved furry niece, Jazzy, whom she affectionately called “Jazzy Belle.”

She also leaves behind numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, other extended family members, church family, and friends who will forever cherish her memory.

Georgia’s love, faith, laughter, strength, and unforgettable spirit will continue to live in the hearts of all who were blessed to know her.
