LIFE Reflections

Quintin Lee Prioleau, affectionately known to family and friends as “Bunny,” was born on November 13, 1959, to Lillian F. Whaley and the late Walter Watson of James Island, South Carolina. On August 30, 2026, Quintin answered the Lord’s call and peacefully transitioned from this earthly life to his eternal home.

Quintin was a member of First Baptist Church of James Island, South Carolina, under the leadership of Reverend Alex White. He received his education through the Charleston County School System on James Island. Throughout his working years, Quintin was employed with Washington Foundation Builders and Lawrence-Washington Floor Covering.

To know Quintin was to know a man who was fun-loving, kindhearted, and full of personality. He truly never met a stranger. Wherever he went, he made his presence known and had a special way of connecting with people. His warm spirit and genuine love for others were contagious, and he left an impression on everyone fortunate enough to know him.

Family held a special place in Quintin’s heart. He dearly loved his mother and shared a close bond with his brothers and sisters. His daughter and grandchildren were especially

Family held a special place in Quintin’s heart. He dearly loved his mother and shared a close bond with his brothers and sisters. His daughter and grandchildren were especially precious to him, bringing tremendous love and joy into his life. Quintin also treasured the time spent with his nieces and nephews, particularly the memorable gatherings at Big Mama’s house, where family, laughter, and love were always present.

Those who knew Bunny will also remember his unforgettable personality and some of his favorite sayings:

“Lemme tell you rite now!”

“Wait a minit!”

“Honessst!”

These familiar words will forever bring smiles and fond memories to those who loved him.

Quintin was preceded in death by his father, Walter Watson; his grandparents, Ben Joseph and Patsy Prioleau, Edward Campbell and Nora Watson; his aunts, Theresa Prioleau, Peggy Washington, and Ella Marie Scott; his uncles, Benjamin Prioleau, Josiah Chavis, Elijah Lawton Jr., James Curtis Watson, and Herbert Matthews; and a special neighbor, Felicia Ann Smalls.

Left to cherish his loving memory are his devoted mother, Lillian Francis Whaley; his beloved daughter, Shaneka Hamilton; his grandchildren, Aryen Hamilton and Dallas Hamilton; his siblings, Daphne (Oscar) Brown, Kenneth (Valarie) Prioleau, Dexter (Carolyn) Prioleau, and Kenya Chavis; his aunts, Rosalee Washington, Shirley Brown, Dorothy Washington, Rev. Dr. Josephine Prioleau-Richardson, Francena Lawton, and Mary Alice (Ronald) Scott; his uncles, Wayne (Donna) Prioleau and Johnny (Castlee) Prioleau; his best friends, Walter Wilder and Andrew Prioleau; a host of loving nieces and nephews, including little Bryce Brown; and many other relatives and friends.

Though Bunny’s earthly journey has ended, the laughter he shared, the love he gave, and the memories he created will continue to live in the hearts of all who knew and loved him..
