

She lived with gentle, faithful grace,
And love shone softly from her face.
A mother's heart, so kind and true,
Gave strength and comfort all life through.

With willing hands and spirit bright,
She served her church with joy and light.
She taught, she sang, she led with care,
And blessed so many everywhere.

Among her flowers she found delight,
In gardens touched by morning light.
Through art and crafts her gifts were shown,
In beauty shaped by hands well known.

She worked beside the ones she loved,
With courage born from God above.
Through quiet strength and humble way,
She blessed the lives she met each day.

Though now from earthly labors free,
Her love lives on in memory.
In children, grandchildren, and more,
Her spirit blooms forevermore.

In Loving Memory of
Glenda Kaelberer

1934 - 2026

