

Psalm 23

The Lord is my shepherd;
I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul:
he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness
for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley
of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:

for thou art with me;
thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me
in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy
shall follow me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Did you notice the butterfly?

Colorful and quiet,
unassuming and polite.
Floating through life
with all her might.

Thoughts unspoken.
Would anyone hear?
Finding her way,
struggling through fear.

Caring for oneself
out of need.
Solitary and sweet
without an ounce of greed.

Dreams of pink blossoms
as the days pass by.
Wanders through nature
underneath the blue sky.

Did you notice the butterfly?

She's been fluttering around you for 85 years.
She has moved on now
and left me in tears.

 In loving memory
of my Aunt Jackie.

Jacqueline (Jackie) Jean Burke was born on the family farm July 8, 1939, to Frank and Esther (Reiner) Burke. She began school at a country school and later attended Scotland High School and graduated in 1960.

Jackie was employed at Sacred Heart Hospital for 44 years in the kitchen and lived most of her working years in the Benedictine Center apartments among the nuns. She formed many friendships with the nuns, and they utilized her knitting and crocheting skills for various projects. Jackie would often chauffeur the nuns downtown for shopping trips. While working in Yankton, Jackie would come back to the family farm on weekends. She enjoyed spending time outdoors at the farm with all the animals, especially the cats.

Later in life, she resided at the Menno Care Center before moving back to Scotland to her own apartment with the assistance of Valerie, her niece and Jake Sturges. As her health began to fail, Jackie spent her remaining days at Good Samaritan Center Nursing Home in Scotland.
