Obituary

Born into the brisk wintry month of January 18, 1944, in Dayton, Arkansas, Patricia Ann Mitchell was welcomed into this world by her beloved parents, Harold and Helen Mitchell, older sister, Betty, younger brother Joe, and her younger sisters Shirley and Joyce.

Patricia would begin her education in the Greenwood Public Schools system, moving on to graduate from the Greenwood High School. After finishing high school, she continued on obtaining her Associates degree in Bookkeeping.

Patricia indulged into the business of bookkeeping, and enjoyed being a stay at home mother, as well as a bookkeeper for the family business.

Patricia throughout her life made her home in Fort Smith, Tulsa and Yukon.

In 1975, she would welcome a new bundle of joy, and she named her JoLynda. She also played a pivotal role in the raising of her two stepsons, Richard and Robert Ingram. Through the birth of her daughter she was privileged to care for her grandchildren one by one; Robyn Hennigh born in 1998, Nicky Hennigh born in 2001 and Xander Hennigh born in 2003. She loved spending time with her grandchildren, as it was evident in the many adventures they would go on such as, going to the movies together, arts and crafts, Patricia in her spare time could be found watching her many science fiction movies, TV shows and books. Patricia would often read Star Wars books as bedtime stories when her children were little. Patricia also was an artist, as she completed many different paintings. Patricia was the costume designer as well for her family especially during Halloween, as she made the costumes for JoLynda and her grandchildren for many years. On every Sunday, Patricia could be found with her sisters and brother-in-law watching movies. She was a very funny, loving, generous, kind and stubborn person. She was known to definitely tell you about yourself, but would love and support you wholeheartedly. Patricia was very fond of animals, and on several occasions would sneak fries to JoLynda's dog and take the Schnauzer on secret trips to Braum's. She made sure to instruct the employees on the making of her esteemed strawberry shakes, making sure they were made extra super thick.

Patricia treasured her family, so much so that when JoLynda married Jerry she embraced Courtney, Allie, and Ciara Walker, and two great grandchildren, Jacoby Walker and Tristan Woods.

In 2014 Patricia came back to Fort Smith to care for her mother, Helen, until her passing. She cherished the time spent with her mother and siblings. In addition to her parents she was preceded in death by her brother Joe Mitchell.

Patricia is survived by her beloved daughter, JoLynda Walker and husband Jerry of Yukon, OK; granddaughter Robyn Hennigh and grandsons Nicky & Xander Hennigh, her sisters, Betty Hale, Shirley Golofski, Joyce Dodson.. She loved animals and her hobbies were painting, sewing, watching science fiction movies and Sunday afternoons with her sisters and brother-in-law.
