

BOB'S LEGACY OF GENEROSITY

"Bob purchased a house from the Grady County Sheriff Sale (back taxes). He later realized a little old lady was living there. He didn't have the heart to evict her so she lived there rent free until the day she died. She was never even aware he owned the house." - Connie Cofer

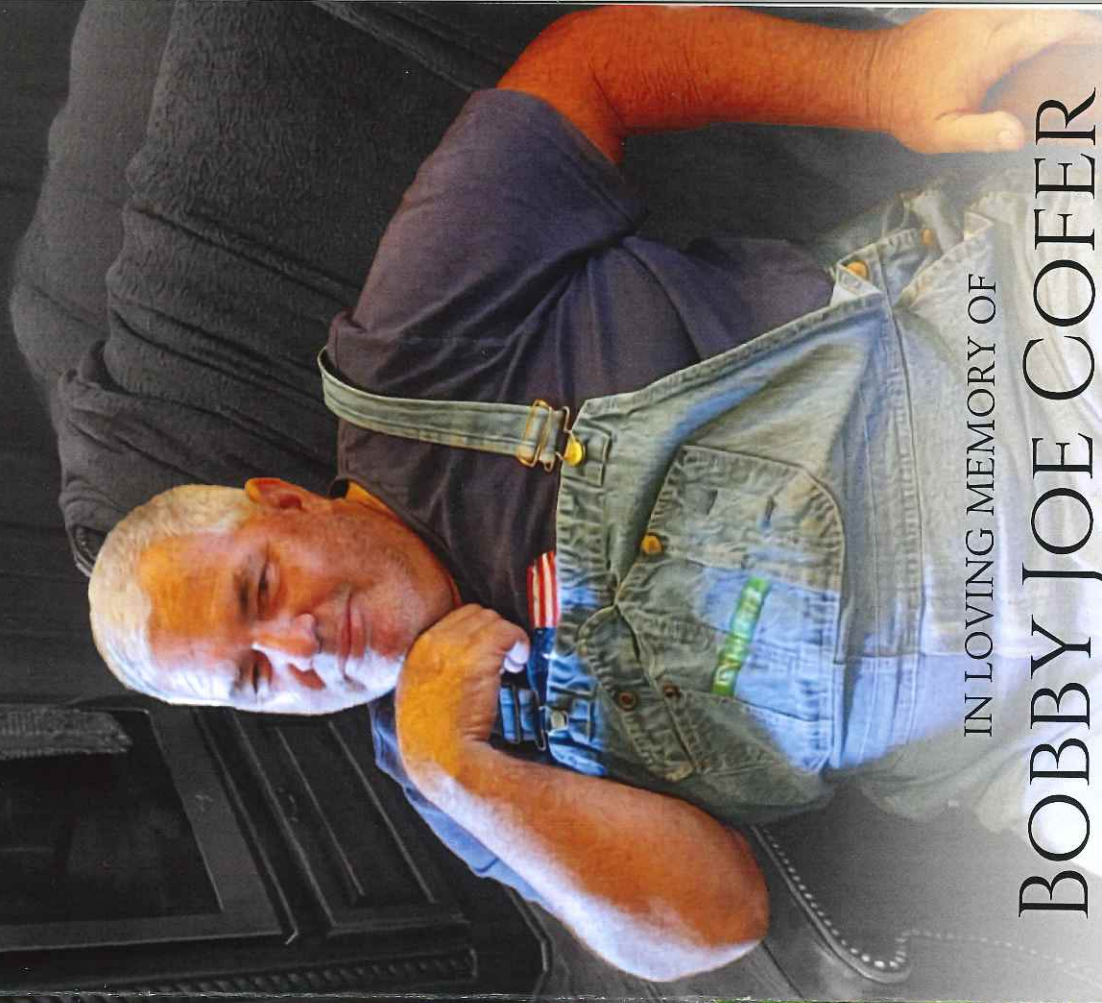

"When I was little my family was fishing. I was sad because everyone but me had caught a fish. It was getting dark, unknown to me, my brothers, went out into the lake and put a fish on my hook. That's how I caught my first fish. I didn't know until years later." - Mary White

"He would grow corn. Not for himself, but because he wanted to feed the deer. Instead of shooting them off, he took care of them. And any extra corn he had left, he gave away to friends and strangers alike." - Jessica Hill

"After college, Uncle Bob asked me to 'store' an entire set of 1920's bedroom furniture for him. Acting as if I was doing him a favor, he instructed me to use it. It's still at my house, in use, to this day." - Jordan Nash

"Multiple times he gave people with no where else to go a place to stay. He paid people down on their luck to do work- and then do the work himself. Bobby put food on the table for dozens of people who could only pay for it with a thank you." - Rick Hill

"Bob 'loaned' lots of people money over the years. Can I have it back?" - Dee Cofer

OBITUARY

Bobby Joe Cofer was born March 30, 1959, in Chickasha, Oklahoma to Donnie Doyle Cofer and Carol Ann (Reed) Cofer. He passed unexpectedly from this life on Wednesday, April 15, 2026 at his home in Cyril, Oklahoma.

Bobby grew up in Ninnekah, attending grade school through high school at Ninnekah, where he played basketball as #00 for the Ninnekah Owls. He was a great athlete and Coach Potts remembered him as being the greatest rebounder he ever coached in 30+ years. He also played baseball and later church league softball.

Bobby, along with his brother Dee, worked in the cooling tower industry for over 30 years, and later dragging along his nephew Rick Hill. Bob worked his job to support his passion for farming and ranching; he loved working the land. He had a soft spot for animals and nature, often sitting and observing God's creation.

He loved to go to auctions and was always on the hunt for a bargain. He was a wheeler-dealer, following in the footsteps of his dad. He was the most generous soul, often giving his treasured finds to those he loved with a humble heart. So many times, he gave to those he knew needed a helping hand without them ever knowing.

Bobby was preceded in death by both parents, his sister Susan Bounds and his beloved pet poodle Rojo.

Loved ones left to cherish his memory are his brother Dee Cofer and wife Kimberly of Chickasha, sisters Connie Cofer of Oklahoma City and Mary White and husband Darrell of Chickasha; numerous nieces and nephews and other extended family and friends.
