Tributes of Love

Dear Granny Jackie

Your passing has made me realize that I don't really know how to grieve. Over the past few days, everyone around me gets all emotional when you're brought up, but for me I just get distant. Its hard to think about you and Its hard to know how I feel about you leaving. I think I try not to think about it by doing other things, I think it's because I just don't know how to deal with all of this.

This is something I've never felt or experienced before. I've been trying to stay strong for mom but somedays its really hard because I understand how much she misses you, but I miss you a lot too. I'm gonna miss your phone calls, I wish I answered more of them. I'm going to miss seeing your face and hearing your voice. I would love for you to know that I cherish and value every moment we spent together, every phone call, every I love you and every threat of you whopping me or biting me (LOL) . It would be nice if you could give me a sign to tell me that you made it to Heaven and that mom will be ok.

I Love you very very much granny Jackie.

Love, Jayden

Mom,

My heart is broken, but it is also full – full of love, gratitude, and memories I will cherish forever. You were my strength, my comfort, and my greatest blessing. You taught me how to love, how to be strong, and how to trust God through every season of life. I will miss your voice, your hugs, and your guidance more than words can say. Even though I can't see you, I feel you with me always. I know you are at peace, and that brings me comfort. Thank you for being my mother. I love you endlessly, and I will carry you in my heart forever.

Love always,
Your daughter 🌈
