If You're Wondering

*If you're wondering where to find me,
Wondering where my soul has wandered to,
Just know I'm right beside you
In everything you do.
I'm somewhere in the distance,
Between the land and sea,
So when you look up to the clouds,
I hope you look for me.
I'll be popping up in planters,
When winter turns to spring,
I'll be the song on the radio,
Just so I can hear you sing,
I'll be the brightest rainbow,
When the sunlight meets the rain,
And sometimes I'll be the raindrops,
Sent to wash away your pain.
I'll be the trickles of sunlight,
As the warmth kisses your skin,
Forever in your heart,
So look for me within.
I'll be the brightest star,
So I know you will see my light,
Just know I'll never leave you
Even though I'm gone from sight.*
