Expressions of Gratitude

It is with a grateful heart that we take this time to share a word of thanks and endearing appreciation for the gift of family and friends like you. Your kindness shown to us during this difficult time has given us strength and inspiration.

May God continue to bless each one of you.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go..

When I come to the end of the road and the sun sets for me. I want no rites in a gloom filled room, why cry for a soul set free. Miss me a Little but not too long, and not with your head bowed low Remember the love that we all once shared, Miss Me but Let Me Go. For this is a journey that we all must take and each must go a lone. Its all part of the Masters plan a stop on the road to home. When you are lonely, sick and sick of heart go to the friends we know and bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.

Celebration of Life

A portrait of Barbara Lane, a woman with short, dark, curly hair, smiling warmly. She is wearing a dark top and a necklace. The background of the portrait is dark with a subtle sunburst effect behind her head.

The Life & Legacy of Barbara Lane...

Barbara Lane, born on September 27, 1963, in Statesboro, Georgia, entered this world surrounded by the love of her devoted parents, Winston Dubois and Carolyn Dubois. During her childhood, the family relocated to Jacksonville, Florida, where Barbara grew into a compassionate, steady-spirited young woman known for her warm heart and gentle presence.

Barbara attended Robert E. Lee High School and later pursued her passion in the medical field by completing nursing school. Her commitment to caring for others became a defining part of her life, reflecting the kindness and empathy she showed to all who knew her.

Barbara was the proud mother of two sons, Christopher Riley and Tramane Dubois, who brought immense joy and purpose to her life.

She leaves to cherish her memories, her two sons, Christopher Riley and Tramane Dubois; her three grandchildren, Adrianna Dubois, Kamila Riley, and Taniyah Dubois, and a cherished great-grandmother to Noah Dubois. Her family circle extended to her beloved daughter-in-law, Chanel Dubois.

Barbara's legacy is one of love, strength, and gentle grace. She touched countless lives with her calm spirit, her unwavering kindness, and her capacity to make others feel valued and understood. Her memory will forever live on in the hearts of all who had the privilege of knowing her.

She will be profoundly missed and eternally remembered.
