OBITUARY

Allen James Jones Jr., 44, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, departed this life on March 5, 2026. He was born on June 11, 1981, in Philadelphia to Allen James Jones Sr. and the late Deborah Mathis-Brown.

Allen was educated in the Philadelphia Public School System. Throughout his life he held various jobs, including working as kitchen staff at TGI Friday's and providing home health care. Born with a heart condition, Allen faced medical challenges from childhood, yet he continually defied expectations and persevered through many obstacles.

Allen enjoyed the simple pleasures of life. He loved driving around the city visiting family and friends, listening to music, and attending gatherings where laughter and good food were always present. Known for his humor, charisma, and sense of style, Allen took pride in dressing well and had a personality that could easily make others laugh. In his spare time, he also enjoyed flipping cars.

Family meant a great deal to Allen, and he cared deeply for those closest to him. He shared a special bond with his brother Joey, with whom he spent a great deal of time. Although Allen was the older brother, Joey often looked after him, and their relationship reflected deep loyalty and love. Allen also held a special place in his heart for his younger brother Sayheem, whom he affectionately referred to as "baby boy." Even while Sayheem lived in Georgia, Allen made sure to call and check in on him regularly.

Allen loved spending time with family during holidays and gatherings and was well known for visiting loved ones and leaving with an extra plate of food to take home. His presence brought laughter, conversation, and warmth to those around him.

Allen often spoke lovingly about his mother, Deborah Mathis-Brown, whose passing left a lasting place in his heart. Later in life, during one of his hospital stays, Allen expressed his desire to give his life to the Lord Jesus Christ. The prayer of salvation was prayed with him over the phone by his sister, bringing him comfort and peace.

Allen also had the opportunity to take a memorable trip to Hawaii, an experience he truly enjoyed.

Allen leaves to cherish his memory his father, Allen James Jones Sr.; his sister Nieda Washington (Phillip Washington); his brothers Joey Jones and Sayheem Jones (Gabrielle Foster-Jones); his special friend Marvella Davis.

His loving aunts and uncles:

Diane Robinson; Robin (Renée) Mathis-Brewington (Delfonso Brewington); Pastor Jacqueline (Terry) Mathis- Blunden(Bishop-Elect Whitney Blunden); Denise "Neicy" Edwards-Smith (Ervin Smith); Earlando Mathis (Lorna Mathis); Johnny Mathis; Wendy Mathis (Rubin); and Tina Mathis, wife of the late Butch Mathis

He also leaves behind a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, extended family members, and friends who will remember his humor, personality, and the love he shared with those around him.

Allen was preceded in death by his mother, Deborah Mathis-Brown, and his uncle Butch Mathis.

As it is written

I have kept the faith."
