

Miss Me

When I come to the end of the road
and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room.
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little, but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me but let me go.
For this is a journey we all must take,
and each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart,
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.
Miss me, but let me go.

Life Reflections

Eugene Searcy was born on September 20, 1953, to the late George Sr. and Ola Mae Hollis Searcy in Thomaston, GA. He was 1 of 14 children.

He was educated in the Thomaston Public School system until he moved to Boston at the age of 17 where he attended Dorchester High School. Gene started his long-term work career at Polaroid where he met the love of his life, Pamela Foreman, in 1983. They united in marriage in November 2006. This union spanned over four decades. Together they raised, molded, and shaped four dear grandchildren along with a multitude of other young lives.

Gene brought his southern hospitality everywhere he went. His charismatic nature made every stranger he met an instant friend. Everybody loved Gene in their own special way. More than anything, Gene loved his family and friends. He had a way of making everyone around him feel special. If Gene loved you, he made sure to let everyone know.

You could often find Gene behind a video camera. Gene recorded football games for Pop Warner Football for over 25 years. When Gene wasn't making videos, he was creating playlists of his favorite music for his friends and family. Of all his hobbies, Gene loved to grill. Anyone who knew Gene loved his famous Gene Q ribs.

Eugene was preceded in death by his parents and siblings Mary, Melvin, Baby Boy Searcy, Vesta, Lonnie, Lottie, Bernard, Ketih, and Freddie. Gene leaves to mourn his wife Pam; his children: Desmond, Alonzo, Robert, Kenya, and Dwayne; his grandchildren: Tamara, Kadache, Kendrell, Kaylin, Kaleb, Kyrese, Stacey Crystal, Shawn, Cernel, Alexis, Markevin, Honesty, Nylah, CJ, Devonte, Robert Jr., Kiana, Quentin, Jada, Janya, and Ellisia; his god granddaughter Madison; his siblings: Jesse (Sheila), George, Geneva, and Anderson (Tomp)(Dorothy); his mother-in-law Rosalie; sisters-in-law Jan (Willie), Tina, and brother-in-law Howard; his sisters-in-law Maxine and Nadine Searcy along with a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and dear friends.

I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

II Timothy 4:6-9
