From Sunset to Sunrise

She loved the sound of music
The laughter of her own,
The beauty found in nature,
and Never being alone.

She loved the simple moments,
The memories made with care,
The warmth of family gathered close,
The feeling of love everywhere.

And when the sun comes Rising,
We'll remember her with light,
And when it fades in the evening,
We'll hold her close at night.

For though she's gone beyond her sight,
Her love will still remain,
In every song, each sunset sky,
And every drop of rain.

Until we meet her once again,
Her memory will be our guide,
a beautiful soul we were blessed to love,
Whose light will never Die.
