Benediction

Recessional

God saw you getting tired
And a cure was not to be
So he put his arms around you and whispered,
Come to me.
With tearful eyes we watched you,
And saw you pass away.
And although we loved you dearly,
We couldn't make you stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands at rest.
God broke our hearts to prove us.
He only takes the best.

—1 JOHN 2:17

Felton's early years in Morganton were shaped by the support and love of his parents, Felton William Corpening Sr. and Cleo Harshaw, and the wisdom bestowed on him by his grandparents, Sadie Mayolia Harshaw, Nathaniel Harshaw Sr., Pearl Corpening, and Guy Corpening—all of whom welcomed him into the roots of a proud and caring family. The lessons and heritage received from them carried Felton through every stage of his life, becoming threads in the fabric of the man he would become.

Felton's devotion ran deepest in his spiritual life. He was a faithful member of the Restoration Christian Outreach Center, where his sister, Apostle Faye Reese-Miller, led the congregation. His faith not only anchored him through trials and triumphs but served as a gentle beacon to all who knew him.

He was preceded in death by many dear ones, including his father Felton William Corpening Sr., his mother Cleo Harshaw, his sister Terry Lynn Corpening McLean, and all four grandparents, whose influence shaped him and continue to echo through the lives of those who survive him.

Though Felton Corpening Jr. has moved on from this world, his influence remains a sustaining force for all who loved him and were loved by him. His spirit endures—as gentle as a blessing, as steady as a father's hand.
