

Geneta Singleton

May 14, 1945 — September 30, 2025

There are some people whose love stays with you forever — and Geneta was one of them. A devoted mother, sister, and aunt, she was the kind of person whose presence filled a room with light, laughter, and comfort.

We'll never forget the summers we spent at her home in Maryland. The sound of her laughter, the way she made everyone feel like family — those memories are treasures we'll hold close for the rest of our lives. Her house wasn't just a place; it was a feeling — warm, safe, and full of love.

And every time she came to Philadelphia, it was special. We'd head to the Italian Market like we always did, walking side by side, talking about everything and nothing at all. She had a way of turning even the simplest days into something unforgettable.

Geneta was loved by everyone who knew her. She had a heart so big that if you needed anything, she was there — no hesitation, no questions asked. She gave of herself freely, out of pure love and kindness. That was just who she was.

It's hard to imagine life without her laughter, her hugs, her warmth. But her spirit will never fade — it lives on in our memories, in the lessons she taught us about love and family, and in the kindness she left behind.

Rest peacefully, sweet Geneta. You will forever be loved, forever missed, and forever remembered in our hearts.
