Mom, thank you for the love you gave, the strength you showed, and the family you helped build. Thank you for the lessons that will continue to guide us long after today.

Your life mattered. Your sacrifices mattered. Your love mattered. And your legacy will continue to live on through all of us.

May God welcome you into His loving arms and grant you eternal peace. You will forever be loved, forever be remembered, and forever be a part of us.

Rest peacefully, Mom. We love you.

Gods Garden

God looked around his garden- And found an empty place,
He then looked down upon the earth- And saw your tired face.
He put his arms around you -And lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful -He always takes the best.
He knew that you were suffering -He knew you were in pain.
He knew that you would never – Get well on earth again.
He saw the road was getting rough – And the hills were hard to climb.
So he closed your weary eyelids – And whispered, 'Peace be thine'.
It broke our hearts to lose you – But you didn't go alone,
For part of us went with you – The day God called you home.

Obituary

Alice Jane Ramsey, age 74, was born on July 19, 1952 and departed this life on October 16, 2026

Let us give praise and thanks to God for blessing us with a woman whose life touched so many people. Our mother was a woman of strength, grace, and unconditional love. She raised her children with pure hearts and instilled in us values that will carry on through generations. Her love was not limited to words. She showed it through her actions, her sacrifices, and the way she continued to put her family first. She taught us the importance of family, the value of love, and the strength that comes from standing together through life's challenges.

Our mother's life was not always easy. She faced challenges that many people may never fully understand. Living with a disability brought obstacles and pressures, but she continued to show a strength that could not be measured. Even through those difficulties, she kept going. She faced life with dignity, courage, and a determination that deserves to be remembered and celebrated.

Her story reminds us that strength is not about never facing hardships. Strength is about continuing to live, love, and persevere even when life becomes difficult. Our mother did just that. She showed us what it means to keep going when things are hard and to hold on to the people and things that matter most.

Today, although our hearts are heavy, we can find comfort in knowing that her love does not end here. It lives on in her children, in her grandchildren, in her great-grandchildren, and in every person who was blessed enough to know her. We will remember her lessons, cherish the memories, and carry her love with us wherever life takes us. Although we can no longer see her or hold her, the impact she made on our lives will never disappear.

One of the greatest gifts she leaves behind is the family she raised and the generations who will continue to carry her values, traditions, and love forward. Her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren are living reminders of the beautiful legacy she created.

Alice was preceded in death by her parents: James Booker and Christine Booker; husband, Mark Ramsey; siblings: James Booker, Thomas Booker and Charles Booker; grandson, Mario Booker and sisters-in-law: Christine Booker and Sheridan Booker.

She leaves to cherish her memory, children: Celestine Booker, Ticoya Booker and Mark Booker; siblings: Yvonne Booker and Hobart Booker; sister-in-law, Sandra Booker; eight grandchildren; 22 great-grandchildren; one great-great grandchild and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.
