Gregory Keith MOORE

On the second Saturday in 1965, Gregory Keith Moore was born on the 9th day of the year to Ellis Lee Steadman and Peggy Joyce Moore.

Gregory attended Kashmere High School in Houston Independent School District. He was baptized at an early age at Greater Mt. Olive Progressive Baptist church, under the late Pastor L. A. Lewis. Greg was an astute studier of the Bible. He would spend hours discussing various topics. Brotherhood was his favorite service.

Gregory spent his life around the Houston Gardens area of Houston where his fondness of animals was widely known. It was not a rare thing to see chickens, ducks, dogs, and horses around the homestead. Not only was Gregory an adamant lover of animals but he was also an unlicensed veterinarian. Neighbors and friends would bring their pets over for Greg to nurse back to health. He would be caught more often than not talking to the animals. Greg spent many years riding bulls in the rodeo and he participated heavily in the Northeast Trail riders, an organization his father founded. He loved family gatherings where he would tell his many jokes and go into his comedy routine. He was very close to his mother; it was safe to say that he was a momma's boy. He loved his family and friends dearly. He spent many days playing dominoes and cards and just gabbing with them.

Gregory was preceded in death by: his mother, Peggy Joyce Steadman; father, Ellis Lee Steadman; aunts: Opal Lee Humphrey and Thelma Gaines; sibling: Albert Jack

He leaves to serve God: Sister, Angela Steadman-Lee (Michael); 3 nieces: Pasha Steadman-Taylor (De'Quinston), Jania Fowler, Janea Fowler; 3 grandnieces: Penny Steadman, Joy Steadman-Taylor, Neveah Steadman-Taylor, Siblings: Ellis Paige, Linda James, and Stella Jones; Uncle: James Winston (Walter) and many relatives and friends.

BULLDOG HEART

You know you always said you were gonna live till you were 84 years of age and that's what I expected. But you're gone now to be with mom, dad, grandma and Aunt Drew. I'm going to miss you more than any person will ever imagine. I'm gonna miss the phone calls that lasted for days, as we discussed our life issues. I'm gonna miss the times when I go out of town and you talk to me all the way back home. Remember when I told you I was coming from Beaumont and that we would be home at 1:30AM!! Yeah, I stopped at Whataburger and was at your door at 1:35. I'm gonna miss those moments when we actually cried on each other shoulders. Most of all I'm miss hearing you call me Bigfoot!! Big Moe, you bulldogged, you bulldogged hard. 45 days you were scratching until you just couldn't scratch no more

I love you, "Little Brother"
