Far From Home

Thinking about you and how much you meant to me—
Your love, your smile—
They always made me as happy as can be.

I think about you and how
You made my world go 'round,
Never regretting anyone or anything,
Always holding your head high, never down.

When you entered a room, many faces would light—
You brought happiness to the darkest of nights.
You gave me joy, you gave me faith,
You showered me with love,
And you gave me strength.

You taught me to believe in myself
And in everything I do.
You taught me to always look above,
Even when I had no clue.

I know I'm saying goodbye—or perhaps farewell—
But you'll always be in my heart,
And bad times will never prevail.

So, we won't weep, we won't cry.
Though physically you're gone,
In spirit, we'll laugh, love, and remember...
Because you're not too far from home.

Grandma, Your Journey's Done

Grandma, your journey's done—
You've flown beyond the setting sun.
We picture you with angel wings,
Surrounded now by heavenly things.

No more pain, no need to cry—
You've found your peace beyond the sky.
We'll hold your smile, your laugh, your grace,
And feel your love in every place.

Though we miss you every day,
We know you're just a prayer away.
With a heart so soft, a gentle soul,
Our family feels your loving role.

You gave us love in every way
And shaped who we are today.
Though now we must say our goodbyes,
We'll find you in the stars and skies.

Forever missed, forever true—
Our hearts are full because of you.
So rest, dear Grandma, your journey's done,
Your soul's complete, your race is won.

From all your grandkids, here's our vow:
To carry your legacy starting now.
We love you, Grandma—always will,
Your spirit with us, strong and still.
