Benediction

Pastor Willis Fleming

Above all, David was a proud and devoted father. His children, Aleiah, Cinsere, and Messiah, were the center of his life and brought him immense pride and joy. The love he had for his children will forever remain an important part of the legacy he leaves behind.

David was a loving son to his mother, Lori Lee, who will always cherish the many memories they shared throughout his life. He also shared a deep and meaningful bond with his father, David Williams, a unconditional relationship built on love and respect.

He leaves to cherish his memory his siblings Maria, Devon, Brandon, India, Takeela, Shonte, and Tinisha, along with the mother of his child (Brittney), many nieces and nephews, and a large extended family of aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends.

David also shared a special bond with his cousins Brandon, Justin, Lindsay and K-Roc whose relationship with him was as close as that of brothers.

David was preceded in death by his grandparents, Priscilla and James Lee, and David Williams Sr.; his nephew, Marcus Sims Jr.; his aunt, Dianne Blair; and his uncles, Lindsay Orr, Barry Lee, and George "Kokomo" Williams. Each of them held a special place in his heart and meant the world to him.

David's passing leaves a profound void in the hearts of those who knew and loved him. Though he will be deeply missed, his memory, spirit, and the love he shared will live on through his children, family, and all who were blessed to know him.

He will be forever remembered and forever loved.

"Those we love don't go away. They walk beside us every day, unseen, unheard, but always near, still".

Obituary

David Tyler Lee born on October 5, 1984, to Lori Lee and David Williams. He departed this life on March 5, 2026 to be with the Lord. David was a devoted father, son, brother, uncle, and friend whose life was defined by his love for family and the connections he built with those around him.

David attended Finneytown and LaSalle High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he formed lasting friendships and developed a strong sense of community. During his youth, he was widely recognized for his athletic ability and was known as a standout basketball and football player. His determination, competitive spirit, and natural talent earned him the respect of teammates and coaches alike.

David carried himself with confidence and took pride in his appearance. His distinctive style, often highlighted by his signature glasses and hats, became one of the many qualities family and friends will always remember.

He valued family deeply and remained closely connected to those he loved. He made it a priority to stay in touch with relatives and friends, often checking in to ensure their well-being. His thoughtful nature and loyalty to those around him were qualities that defined him.

David also had a passion for cooking, particularly grilling. Among family and friends he was known as the "Grill Master." At the time of his passing, he was working toward building his own food truck, which he planned to call "Flava Dave's 21 Flavas," reflecting both his personality and his love for bringing people together through food.

This is not goodbye

As I send you on your way,
There's something I want to say,
Throughout the year I watched you grow,
Blossom into the gem we all know.
We learned, we played, we laughed a lot,
We built a castle where once stood a dot.
As you spread your wings and begin to fly,
Always remember it began with a try.
'I can't', 'I won't', was not permitted,
Fear and doubt should be omitted.
Be your best and try your hardest,
Read a lot to go the farthest.
Come and visit and say 'Hi',
See you later – this is Not goodbye!
