Obituary

Keegan Johnson Kennedy, born on September 8, 2010, in Fort Wayne, Indiana, to Keshia Kennedy and Quintin Turner-Williams, was a bright and gifted individual. He excelled academically, testing out of elementary school during his first week of kindergarten. Keegan's passion for learning led him to request in-person education, which he pursued diligently.

Keegan had a deep love for technology, gaming, and languages. He taught himself Spanish and had a strong interest in Japanese culture, often engaging with their music and language. He also self-taught coding, showcasing his remarkable intellect and curiosity.

A lover of life, Keegan's faith was central to him. He began reciting the Lord's Prayer at age four and continued to pray with his mother every night. His aspirations included attending Harvard or MIT, pursuing careers in computer science, engineering, and medicine. Keegan was also a passionate Michigan football fan.

Keegan enjoyed a life filled with peace and joy, participating in flag football, soccer, baseball, and various family activities. He cherished annual Thanksgiving dinners and Christmas celebrations with his family, including his beloved grandparents, Julius Kennedy (Paw Paw) and Karmen Kennedy (Amor).

Keegan is survived by his mother, Keishia Kennedy, father Quintin Turner-Williams, two brothers, Kai Turner-Williams and Kavari Turner-Williams, his loving grandparents, Julius Kennedy and Karmen Kennedy and great grandmother, Carol Davis. A host of aunts, uncles, cousins and friends. Keegan's memory will be cherished by all who knew him.

"Therefore, we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord: (for we walk by faith, not by sight:) we are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord. 2 Corinthians 5:6-8
