LIFE'S REFLECTIONS

Jarvis Verneal Robinson

Jarvis Robinson was born on May 6, 1996, to Freddie and Rose Robinson. He departed from us on May 6, 2024.

He attended Yazoo City High School with the class of 2014 and graduated from the Mississippi Job Corps Center in Crystal Springs, MS of that same year. In his younger days, Jarvis attended the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witness with his mother. He was a very good reader and was always ready to participate in the service.

Jarvis held many jobs along the way, basically as a forklift operator. He was known as 'Cheese' by most of his friends, nieces, nephews, and cousins, but to his parents he was their big baby. Jarvis was a gentle giant who loved his big brother, Jesse Robinson, Sr., also known as 'Pony' as a second dad. He texted him one day and told him how much he loved and appreciated him because he never judged him but was always there for him trying to keep him straight. He loved his father dearly; they were the best of buddies always joking and boxing with one another. He had a very close loving relationship with his mother; he could talk to her about anything. Everybody knew hands off when it came to his mother. His other brother, Freddie Robinson, Jr., was his game partner and was always trying to scare Jarvis during their younger days. Jarvis also had a very close relationship with his nephew, Jesse Robinson, Jr., who was like a brother to him. When you see one, the other one was not far behind. Josenlyn, Khaleea, and Raven were like his little sisters, so you know that meant "Hands Off."

Jarvis had a deep love for children, even though he did not have any of his own. All of his homeboys' children were so crazy about him. He was their Uncle Cheese. He loved his nephew, Zyrion and treated him like he was the dad instead of the uncle. He did not get to know little Freddie Jr. but that did not stop the love.

If you had the opportunity to know Jarvis, then you know he was also a straightforward kind of guy. He had a lot of love for his family and friends, especially his neighborhood friends who he grew up with. Lastly, I think it is safe to say we all know his favorite thing was food. The boy loved to eat. You say something about food and he's coming. His friend, Ricky, our neighbor, kept him with a supply of food.

We are going to miss our Gentle Giant, Big Baby, Jarvis Verneal Robinson, aka Cheese.

He was preceded in death by his paternal grandparents, Fannie Wright Robinson and Willie Robinson.

Jarvis leaves to cherish his loving memories, his loving mother and father: Rose and Freddie Robinson. His loving grandmother, who was his Big Momma, Norma Jean Jackson and his grandfather, Lee Smith. His seven brothers: Jesse Robinson, Sr. (Tiffany), Freddie Robinson, Sr., John Curtis, Charles and Fredcedrick Henderson, Carlos Thomas, and Polo Fred Harris; His sister, Famekia Thomas; a very special friend, the love of his life, DeKyhla Robinson; his sister/mom, Kimberly Watson, and a host of nieces, nephews, the world greatest aunts and uncles, especially Uncle Ride; cousins, and all his neighborhood friends and classmates.
